Rosendale Village Officials Will Demand Flood Criticism Be Presented in Writing

LONG WAIT—Charles Kringle, 35, marooned with his dog atop his automobile at Gowanda, N. Y., for nearly 14 hours, waves a greeting March 7 as his ordeal by flood in Western New York's Zoar Valley nears its end. The dark background is the hillside across the valley. Heavy rains and melting snow sent streams over their banks throughout most of the state. (AP Wirephoto).

Harriman May Sign 'Compulsory' Bill

GOP to Try Again On Car Insurance

Albany, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—The Legislature's Republican leaders are going to make another try for a compulsory automobile insurance law.

Provisions of a GOP program bill introduced last night are virtually the same as those sought by former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey two years ago.

Dewey pressed hard for passage of his bill. But it was defeated in the Senate after gaining Assembly approval. Some Senate Republicans joined Democrats to vote it down.

THE DEMOCRATS, have a plan of their own this year for dealing with uninsured drivers. But there is a possibility that Gov. Harriman would sign the GOP measure, if passed.

The new bill, like the old, would require liability insurance protection up to $10,000 for an injury to one person and $20,000 for injury to more than one person in the same accident.

IN OTHER developments:

1. A high-ranking Republican Senator revealed that the GOP-controlled "watchdog" committee had investigators at work in various cities of the state. He did not name the cities.

2. Harriman accused the Senate majority leader, Walter J. Mahoney, of "playing politics with tax cuts."

3. The Assembly completed legislative passage of Harriman's record budget. There were signs Republicans might be willing to restore some of the 23¼ million dollars they pared from the spending program.

THE COMPULSORY insurance bill would require all car owners to furnish proof that they were covered by liability insurance or were otherwise financially responsible within the meaning of the law before

Observers Honored in Saugerties

The Town of Saugerties Ground Observer Corps and its chief observer, Mrs. Rita Gavigan, received awards from the U. S. Continental Air Defense Command Wednesday for outstanding contributions of voluntary service in ceremonies held at Nanny Goat Hill observation post.

Supervisor Peter M. Williams and Ben Sanford, town civil defense director accepted the award in behalf of the town residents who have operated the post 24 hours a day for the past two years.

The award to Mrs. Gavigan read: "Distinguished achievement award is hereby presented to Mrs. Rita Gavigan in grateful recognition of an outstanding contribution and patriotic devotion to country as a leader in the Ground Observer Corps of the United States."

The citation to the township read: "In grateful recognition and appreciation, the Continental Air Defense Command, Ground Observer Corps, presents this

Reid Asks Mayor Give Up Office

Charge Is Relief Was Not Sought

At a meeting next Monday night, Mayor John Mooney and members of the village board will demand that Rosendale residents put their charges in writing concerning blame for alleged failure to take more effective action following recent floods in the village.

Mayor Mooney was reportedly asked to resign at a regular meeting of the board last Monday by a group of approximately 15 persons headed by Joseph Reid, a member of the Rosendale Flood Control Committee. Mr. Reid acted as spokesman.

THE MAYOR and the members of the board—John S. Helmer and George Herd—agreed to meet again at 8 p. m., March 12, in the Rosendale School Auditorium to consider the situation further. They have demanded, however, that charges orally presented at the meeting last Monday be reduced to writing in order that appropriate action may be taken and a "harangue" be avoided.

Officials explained that they didn't want the meeting to "wander all over the lot." Some informed observers told The Freeman that the hassle at the meeting Monday was a "fiasco," a "tempest in a teapot."

ONE MEMBER of the citizens' group even called for the resignation of the entire board, it was reported. The principal target of the group, however, was Mayor Mooney.

A spokesman for the officials, who asked to remain unidentified, said he believed the action taken by the group was hotheaded and unjustified, claiming that the mayor and board had done all they could under the circumstances.

There was nothing more the mayor could have done, he told The Freeman. The mayor was out "working in the flood waters. . . He sent representatives to flood meetings when he was unable to attend."

AN INFORMED village observer explained that he believed a majority vote of the board could legally remove the mayor—but such action would require "substantial grounds," such as

Yerry Lauds Council on Urban Renewal Study Action

Kingston Point Park Area Is Considered as Building Site

Reclamation of the former Kingston Point Park area is being considered by the Kingston Housing Authority for a possible future urban renewal project, George E. Yerry, Jr., the authority's chairman, said today.

The authority, Yerry noted, in a statement released this morning, "at the request of Mayor Stang, proposes that the Kingston Point Park property and the lagoon, be considered for an urban redevelopment project."

ACQUISITION of this property by the city "and its reclamation by means of dredging and pumping fill into the lagoon," he said, "will develop a deep water port and extensive land areas for commercial, park or other purposes. The city needs to own a portion of the waterfront for its own protection and development."

Mayor Stang indicated today that planning on the proposal is not concrete or definite, to date, but he said, "it is something to think about."

YERRY SAID recent Common Council action calling for a local urban renewal study was "very gratifying," and he noted that "it recognizes the need for immediate action advocated by our authority and by Mayor Stang during the past months."

Also, he said, it "recognizes the need so vividly described in the recent economic survey and housing analysis prepared for the local authority under direction of Commissioner Joseph F. McMurray, of the New York State Division of Housing."

THE REPORT, said Yerry, "which received wide acclaim by everyone, stressed the need of immediate planning, and the immediate need for additional housing for low income families. It further recognizes the need for combined public housing and urban renewal programs.

"As a matter of plain common sense, and because of financial problems, an urban renewal program for the city of Kingston is dependent upon a public housing program. It is obvious to those of us who have studied the overall program, that the city cannot finance such a program at the expense of real estate taxes. It is just as obvious that private capital will not attempt to rebuild the depressed areas, under present circumstances."

THE STATEMENT said further:

"The primary requisite for any urban renewal program is a provision to provide decent housing for those people who will be removed from the renewal area during the rebuilding of that area. The city cannot do it and private capital cannot and will not do it. Therefore if no adequate housing is provided there can be no urban renewal program.

In allocating a public housing program to this city, Commissioner McMurray stressed the

FBI Makes Arrest in Hospital

Racehorse Trainer Is Held as Bank Robber

New York, March 8 (AP)—The FBI arrested a patient in a Bronx hospital last night and accused him of being the daring gunman who staged the $188,000 robbery last Friday of a suburban Westchester county bank.

Federal agents said they recovered $100,000 of the loot from the trunk of a car belonging to the prisoner, 33-year-old Arthur L. Paisnuer, a Bronx racehorse trainer.

Paisnuer—who, with a still-sought companion allegedly kidnaped a woman teller of the County Trust Co.'s drive-in branch at Port Chester—will be arraigned today before a U. S. commissioner. He was held under guard at the hospital last night.

Paisnuer was hospitalized since Monday after undergoing minor surgery. He was arrested in bed. Neither the nature of his ailment nor the name of the hospital were disclosed.

TWO MEN abducted the teller, Mrs. Mary F. Kostolos, 52-year-old widow, last Thursday night as she drove up to her Port Chester home. They drove around all night in her car and quizzed her on bank operations and personnel.

Before the bank opened Friday, they forced Mrs. Kostolos to open the bank with her key. Then one man took over inside. The FBI says it was Paisnuer.

THE OTHER MAN disappeared. The FBI said they were

Police Hunt Teamster's Assailants

Newark, N. J., March 8 (AP)—A teamsters official was in fair condition today as police sought the occupants of a blue sedan who pumped two bullets into him during the downtown rush hour yesterday.

Theodore A. (Ted) Nalikowski, a 46-year-old business agent for a teamsters local, was wounded in the gangland-style shooting as he left the union's headquarters on Broad street and started to enter his own car a few feet away on Murray street.

A blue sedan eased to a stop nearby and a fusillade of shots was fired at Nalikowski, two hitting the union official and four striking his car as home-

Second Italian Sees Again Through Eyes of Dead Priest

Milan, Italy, March 8 (AP)—A second young Italian could see again today through the eyes of a dead priest.

She is 18-year-old Amabile Battistella, who lost her sight as the result of an illness when a young child.

Before Father Carlo Gnocchi died Feb. 28 he had asked that his eyes be used in an effort to restore sight to blind children. Known as the "priest of the maimed," the 54-year-old churchman had spent the years since World War II working to rehabilitate war-crippled children.

One of the priest's corneas was transplanted to Angelo Colagrande, 12, blinded five years ago by quicklime. His bandages were removed temporarily yesterday and he was able to see. Reports today said he was making good progress.

Amabile's bandages were removed today. She could see fingers held before her face but a medical report on her prospects was not as optimistic. It said tendency toward cloudiness was noted in the transplanted cornea.

Prof. Cesare Galeazzi, the specialist who transplanted the corneas, asked when he removed Angelo's bandages:

"Can you see my hand?"

"Yes," replied Angelo.

"Try and count my fingers."

"Three, there are three," the child replied.

"Are you happy?"

"Yes, answered the small voice.

Free Nations Targets of Reds

Accuse Soviet Leaders Of Increasing Tension

Karachi, Pakistan, March 8 (AP)—SEATO ministers accused Soviet leaders tonight of attempting, through recent statements and other activities, to "increase tension and promote division among Asian communities."

Other free nations also are targets of the Russian campaign, the ministerial council of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization declared in a communique issued at the windup of a three-day meeting.

The six-page communique said the Soviet attempt is being carried on through "statements and interventions." No leaders were named, but the phrase obviously was intended to encompass the recent visit by Communist Party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin to India, Burma and Afghanistan, which stirred up several simmering controversies.

"THE COUNCIL deplored statements and interventions by Soviet leaders . . . designed to increase tension and promote division in Asian communities and among other nations of the free world," the communique said.

It added that all eight SEATO members recognize that the sovereignty of Pakistan extends to the present Afghanistan border and includes the Pushtoonistan area that Afghanistan wants converted into a separate tribal state.

It said the region falls within the SEATO area as outlined in

Benedictine Has Hospital Radio Link

A new and unique form of post-graduate medical education using two-way radio communications for a free interchange of information between a medical college and the participating hospital has been made available to the Benedictine Hospital medical staff, it was announced today by Sister Berenice, administrator.

The communications system, first of its kind in medical history, was recently inaugurated by the Albany Medical College. The first conference between the college and Benedictine staff will take place this week.

It was explained by Sister Berenice that a group of instructors in a "radio room" at the medical college presents information on specific subjects and recent advances in medicine. This information is received by radio in the participating hospital.

The medical staff, after hearing the presentations, is then able to ask questions and to enter discussions, which are made possible through a radio transmitter located in the meeting room of the medical staff. The system affords the medical counterpart of "complete audience participation."

An essential part of these conferences, Sister Berenice said, is the volunteer cooperation of radio amateurs in Albany, and the communities where other transmitters are located.

It is expected that this form of post-graduate medical teaching by many medical colleges will spread throughout the country and will have a definite effect on increasing the caliber of medical care given the American people, Sister Berenice said.

Eckert Ordered To Show Cause in Supervisor Case

A show cause order was signed at Hudson this morning in the Town of Esopus conflict relative to the supervisorship.

Supreme Court Justice William Deckelman signed the order for Edward Eckert to show cause why he should not turn over books and records of the town to Arnold Ellsworth.

Both claim the supervisorship.

The order is returnable before Justice Deckelman Saturday at 11 a. m. in Monticello.

Eckert was duly elected supervisor last November. He resigned, then withdrew his resignation.

Ellsworth was appointed by the town board, which claims he is the rightful supervisor.

Checks signed by Eckert for payrolls and relief funds are not being honored by the bank until the legal tangle is solved.

Ellsworth was represented today by Town Attorney John Schick.

Merchants Feel N. Front and Clinton Avenue Should Have Two-Way Traffic

A committee of uptown merchants, residents and property owners, now studying one-way traffic, will make a report at a meeting to be held early next week, it was announced today.

The committee was named at a meeting in the court house earlier this week and is headed by Samuel Barnett, North Front street jeweler.

Recommendations will be made for adjustment of the one-way plan, and it was indicated that two plans might be submitted for consideration.

At the recent meeting business people, property owners and residents from North Front street as well as a few from Wall, John and Fair streets discussed the matter at length. In order to secure additional information and make a further study of the traffic problem, as it affects the area, and the city at large, the committee was named and action postponed pending submission of additional facts.

Barnett said the group was pretty well satisfied with the plan in general, and felt that as it affects the side streets it was good but that there should be a revision on North Front street and Clinton avenue. These streets, it was believed, should be restored to two-way traffic.

A dangerous condition had been created on North Front street since one-way traffic was instituted, Barnett said. He pointed to the excessive speed of vehicles and the difficulty of pedestrians crossing at intersections. He cited accidents which have followed the one-way designation of North Front street and said it was the belief of many that the congested condition which existed on North Front street, prior to the one-way regulation, had been pretty much confined to the afternoon traffic between 4:30 and 5:30 o'clock and that opening of the proposed arterial route would remove much of the through traffic from the street and relieve the congestion.

Grand award winners will each receive a certificate for $10 worth of merchandise. One of the certificates is offered by the Wonderly Company, the other by Leon's Young Togs. The winners also receive an 8x10 studio portrait, courtesy of Tom Reynolds, photographer, Community Theatre Building, Kingston. (Reynolds photo).

CAA Leases IBM Computer To Control Air Traffic

Washington, March 8 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) said today it has leased an electronic computer as "the first step toward an automatic air traffic control system."

The computer, leased from the International Business Machines Corp. for $5,500 a month, will be installed next September at the CAA's air route traffic control center at Indianapolis.

Charles J. Lowen, CAA administrator, said in a statement the devise would serve as an operational test of the extent to which such equipment could be used.

"There is no doubt that the equipment we have ordered will be useful in the control of air traffic," Lowen said. "However, it is essential that we obtain experience in the use of computer processing techniques. For that reason we have taken this first step in the direction of automation in our air traffic control function."

Lowen said the equipment in essence will relieve the human controller of air traffic from the clerical detail involved in separating traffic in the air—and will do this part of his job far more quickly.

Ask Further Study Of Charity Control

Albany, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—The State Charities Aid Assn. says a proposal to create a state charities registration board "suggests to us a statewide system of control that amounts to the licensing of chariable organizations."

The statement was sent yesterday to a public hearing of the joint legislative committee on charitable agencies by association president Samuel R. Milbank, who did not attend.

Milbank said a better control is the "pitiless publicity" of newspapers and other mass media, which "should have access to full information on the financial and other operations of charitable organizations."

Representatives of more than a score of charitable organizations asked for further study of the proposal.

The community chests and Councils of American Inc. said licensing "carries the implication of an endorsement."

New Hurley

On Saturday afternoon the March meeting of the New Hurley Guild was held at the home of Mrs. Henrietta Halder with Mrs. Roscoe Pickens as the assistant hostess. 18 members were present. The devotions were led by Mrs. Francis Garrison. The president Mrs. Frank Dylewski presided over the business meeting. Several members of the Guild are making fancy work and aprons for the church fair to be held at the church hall July 14. The guild will furnish flowers for the church during the month of March. At the close of the meeting a social time was enjoyed and refreshments was served by the hostess and assistant

Depends on Byrd About Ike Carrying Virginia

(Editor's Note: This is one in a series of stories by the AP's national political reporters who are surveying the situation across the country in the light of President Eisenhower's decision to seek a second term.)

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Richmond, Va., March 8 (AP)—Most top Democrats agreed today that unless U. S. Senator Harry F. Byrd supports his party's nominee for President this year President Eisenhower probably will carry Virginia again.

Robert Whitehead, a leader of the anti-Byrd faction in the Democratic party, told this reporter that if the rival groups united behind the candidate, "we'd have a good chance of returning the state to the Democratic fold."

OTHERWISE, he said, "I don't see how we can win." He said Byrd's support is vital to victory.

Byrd refused to support Adlai Stevenson in 1952 because he said he considered Stevenson's views too much the same as former President Truman's on labor, civil rights and other issues. While Byrd did not publicly endorse Eisenhower, the Republican candidate carried the state with a margin of 80,360 votes.

Byrd is keeping silent so far on the newly announced candidacy of Eisenhower and that of Democrat Stevenson, who has Whitehead's open support.

THOSE CLOSE to Byrd say he is not too enthusiastic just now about either Eisenhower or Stevenson in view of developments on the civil rights and racial fronts. But they say he regards Sen. Kefauver (D.-Tenn.) and New York Gov. Averell Harriman with even less favor. Kefauver is out campaigning for the Democratic nomination. Harriman is an "inactive" candidate.

A check of leading Democrats in Virginia indicates there is little sentiment at this time for a third party. Political observers said a movement in that direction in on section of the state had made little headway elsewhere.

States Rights Democrats carried four southern states against Truman in 1948. But they drew only 43,393 votes in Virginia, and Truman carried the state against Republican Candidate Thomas E. Dewey by a margin of 200,786 to 172,070.

BYRD SPOKE UP recently with a call to the south for "massive resistance" to federal district court orders carrying out the U. S. Supreme Court decree against segregation in the public schools.

"I believe the people outside the south must wake up and realize that we are not going to accept desegregation calmly," Byrd said. He and other southern Democratic senators are working on a plan to assure their home states of support for any "lawful means" of resisting such orders.

Virginia leaders are going ahead with a proposal aimed at providing public tuition grants for private school education of children whose parents object to racially integrated education.

DEVELOPMENTS on integration, including platforms of the two major parties and statements of the candidates, ultimately will determine how Byrd takes his stand, his friends say.

The Senate is known to have expressed disappointment over Eisenhower's role leading up to the Supreme Court decision against school segregation and the hand the Justice Department played in asking for it.

Byrd reportedly didn't like Vice President Nixon's New York speech praising the Republican stand on civil rights and desegregation. And it was understood he also didn't like the recent news that Mrs. Eisenhower had sent a letter congratulating 14-year-old Judy Genier, a white girl from Moria Center, N. Y., who entered a Negro school in Asheville, N. C.

On the other hand, Byrd was said to have expressed some displeasure with Stevenson's speeches and statements in his campaign for the Democratic nomination. Byrd regards Stevenson as the most "moderate" of the top three party hopefuls, but is far from sure Stevenson is moderate enough either on the racial or labor issues.

PARTY LEADERS here say privately that Stevenson is the only one of the three who would have a chance of carrying Virginia.

"But," they told this reporter, one after another, "Sen. Byrd holds the key to whether Stevenson can win."

Virtually every one from Gov. Thomas B. Stanley on down said Eisenhower will be handicapped in Virginia if Nixon is his running mate again, principally because of the New York speech and its emphasis on civil rights. Many say that Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey would help Eisenhower.

Oliver W. Hill, a Negro lawyer here, and a prominent member of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), estimated the 1952 Negro vote in Virginia at somewhere around 75,000.

"WE ARE MOSTLY Democratic," Hill said, "because we felt that the National Democratic Party has been our friend. I hope the Democratic Party takes a stand that we can support this year."

Hill said it is "too early" to predict anything at this stage of the election year. But he said he felt definitely that Eisenhower could be defeated in Virginia if Byrd came out against him.

"He's got the organization that can do it," Hill said.

Hill said the present effort among the Negroes is to get them qualified as voters so they can make an impressive showing in November.

"Ours is a difficult role," he said. "No matter what either party does nationally, neither party in the state will do anything to further the pledges of the platforms, where we are concerned.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MARCH 8, 1956

FIRST DEMOCRATIC TEST

In mid-March the nation will see the first test of strength between the two active Democratic presidential contenders, Adlai Stevenson and Senator Kefauver, as they square away in the New Hampshire primary.

This primary has two parts. The first is a so-called popularity test, and here is the sole entry. The second involves the actual choosing of convention delegates, and in this a slate pledged to Kefauver and another "favorable to" Stevenson will meet head on.

Stevenson stayed out of the popularity test because Kefauver's 1952 primary victory there was considered to give the senator too much advantage. Key professionals are in his camp.

But Stevenson's followers in New Hampshire thought they saw a chance to steal a march. They felt a slate leaning to their man might do very well in the delegate contests. So in it went.

Should all or even part of this slate win out, the impact on the race would be heavy. Stevenson could claim that he notched delegates without ever campaigning in New Hampshire.

If he were then to follow up with a primary triumph in Minnesota, where he is highly favored to beat Kefauver, the latter's presidential prospects might be seriously crippled at the outset. The heralded clashes between the two in Florida and California in late spring might prove anticlimactic.

On the other hand, should Stevenson fail to break into the delegate lists in New Hampshire, he might pass the matter off by saying "I didn't try." He would suffer a certain damage, but it would be relatively small unless his slate was deeply buried.

Kefauver's problem is different. To build strength he must win all around in New Hampshire, make a creditable showing against stiff odds in Minnesota, and lick Stevenson in Florida or California or both. Even then he has no assurance he would gain the nomination. Few professionals in nonprimary states look fondly upon him.

Stevenson is the front runner now because professionals in populous states like California, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Connecticut prefer him, and he is given an edge in two of the four primaries where he must meet Kefauver—Minnesota and California.

Most of the experts feel he must be conceded the probable convention winner unless he meantime feels the smack of unexpected defeat in one or more key primaries. Thanks to his eager supporters in New Hampshire, the country will get its first inkling of his hold on American voters a little earlier in 1956 than originally expected.

GOP ANNIVERSARY

The Republican National Committee has just celebrated its 100th birthday. That is a date which cannot be questioned, whereas there is more than one claimant for the place and time of the first Republican gathering.

The birth of the Republican party was the last of a major partisan organization. The Democrats preceded them by adopting their present name in 1830, and before that went back to the short-lived Republican party founded by Thomas Jefferson.

Since 1856 all efforts to create a new major party have failed. Theodore Roosevelt's Progressives in 1912 made a spectacular start, polling more votes than the Republicans; but failed to elect candidates on the local level, and faded out of the picture before four years were out. Other attempts, such as the La Follette movement of 1924, and those of Henry Wallace and the Dixiecrats in 1948, proved strictly one-campaign efforts.

Voting habits and strong local organizations are the two factors which keep our major parties going, and make it harder for newcomers to get a foothold.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE CENTER OF DANGER

What is called the Middle East problem is, in fact, the question of the continued existence of the State of Israel. Here is a new state, recognized as a member of the United Nations and its existence guaranteed by all the solemn treaties and agreements which arise out of the Charter of the United Nations. Now Egypt and Saudi Arabia intend to destroy, liquidate and abolish the State of Israel. In this effort, they are supported materially by Soviet Russia and the United States, the former supplying arms to Egypt, the latter to Saudi Arabia.

In due course, some kind of war is bound to break out on the boundaries of Israel. It cannot be foretold who will start that war, what little circumstance will send men to kill each other over a boundary. Naturally when a new state comes into existence, it is carved out of territory which once belonged to some other people. What we now call Israel was up to the end of World War I part of Turkey; then it became a British mandatory under the old League of Nations and now is an independent state. It never was Egyptian or Saudi Arabian territory. As a matter of fact, Egypt was a semi-colony of Great Britain and Saudi Arabia was not a country until after World War I when the Turkish Empire was divided up.

So, when it comes to claims, the legality of the position is that the United Nations turned a British mandated area over to Jews who had settled in Palestine and formed there the State of Israel.

This situation is complicated by religious, racial, and social differences and by the enormous oil reserves of Saudi Arabia. The American State Department faces the dilemma that while it has guaranteed the existence of Israel, it does not propose to lose the oil of Arab countries nor the air bases which it has established in such countries. Meanwhile, the Arabs, under the leadership of Nasser of Egypt, have maneuvered themselves into the enviable position of being able to blackmail both the United States and Soviet Russia. Nasser seems to be more clever than Nehru who tried the same game and manipulated himself into a Russian slave.

The Jews, on the other hand, have waited since 70 A.D. to get back to Jerusalem. Whether one agrees with the Zionist program or not, it is impossible to ignore historic facts. In the Seder service each Passover for this long period, the phrase was repeated year after year, "And next year in Jerusalem." In the Orthodox Jewish prayer book, the return to Zion, to Jerusalem, is a constant prayer. And Orthodox Jews, wherever they may be, always face toward Jerusalem when they pray as a Mohammedan faces toward Mecca. Those who hope that they can overcome this tradition of Zion by diplomacy are whistling in the wind. Every man, woman and child in Israel will have to be killed before that country is abolished. They will fight for that soil as no people ever fought before. If Israel is to be liquidated, it must be by war.

The question then arises whether a state recognized by the United Nations can be pressed out of existence by neighbors who dislike it or by Great Powers that find its existence inconvenient. Furthermore, the question arises whether the United Nations is correct in tolerating the blockading of a country by other member states. The answer, of course, is that the United Nations cannot function in a situation which involves the Great Powers; that it is virtually helpless in any situation in which Soviet Russia chooses to take a side. Therefore, it is not to be expected that the United Nations will be able to prevent war between Israel and Egypt and Saudi Arabia. And now that Glubb Pasha has been kicked out of Jordan, that little country will become bellicose.

Our own State Department has no program. It pursues what might be called a flexible policy; that is, meeting each situation as though it were an isolated problem, which no situation ever is. The reason a little fellow like Nasser can be so fresh is that he gets away with it; anybody can twit the United States or Great Britain because they take the twitting. And whereas it is all done in the sacred cause of peace, there is no peace.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

STREP, CHLORO, TERRA, AND AUREO

The above title includes the short forms for the antibiotics streptomycin, chloromycetin, terramycin and aureomycin. Penicillin was not the first antibiotic to be obtained in chemically pure form by man. That honor belongs to Dr. Rene Dubos of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research whose antibiotic, gramicin, while effective in mice, proved too strong for injection into the bloodstream.

Next, in 1944, was the discovery of streptomycin which was particularly effective among germs that cause cystitis, kidney infections, inflamed gall bladders, undulant fever, plague and a certain type of pnuemonia (klebsiella). However, the most exciting effect of the new drug was against the tubercle bacillus, a very tough type of germ. Streptomycin and its close relative dihydrostreptomycin are so very valuable against tuberculosis that some specialists feel they should be reserved for treatment of that disease and not be "wasted" on infections that are controlled as well by other drugs.

In 1947 came the antibiotic chloromycetin which proved effective in the treatment of whooping cough. It also was tried with Rocky Mountain spotted fever, usually a deadly killer, with marvelous results. Again it was tried with typhoid fever and it was found that chloromycetin was and is unique in its ability to cure this ravaging infection. Before the drug was developed, the best that a typhoid patient could expect was many miserable weeks in hospital while his fever shot up and down, followed by weary months of convalescence. Today the drug is manufactured easily with no help from the molds that originally created it.

Aureomycin was released for general medical use late in 1948. It did not have chloromycetin's remarkable killing-power against typhoid fever but on the other hand was rather more effective against Asiatic cholera and undulant fever.

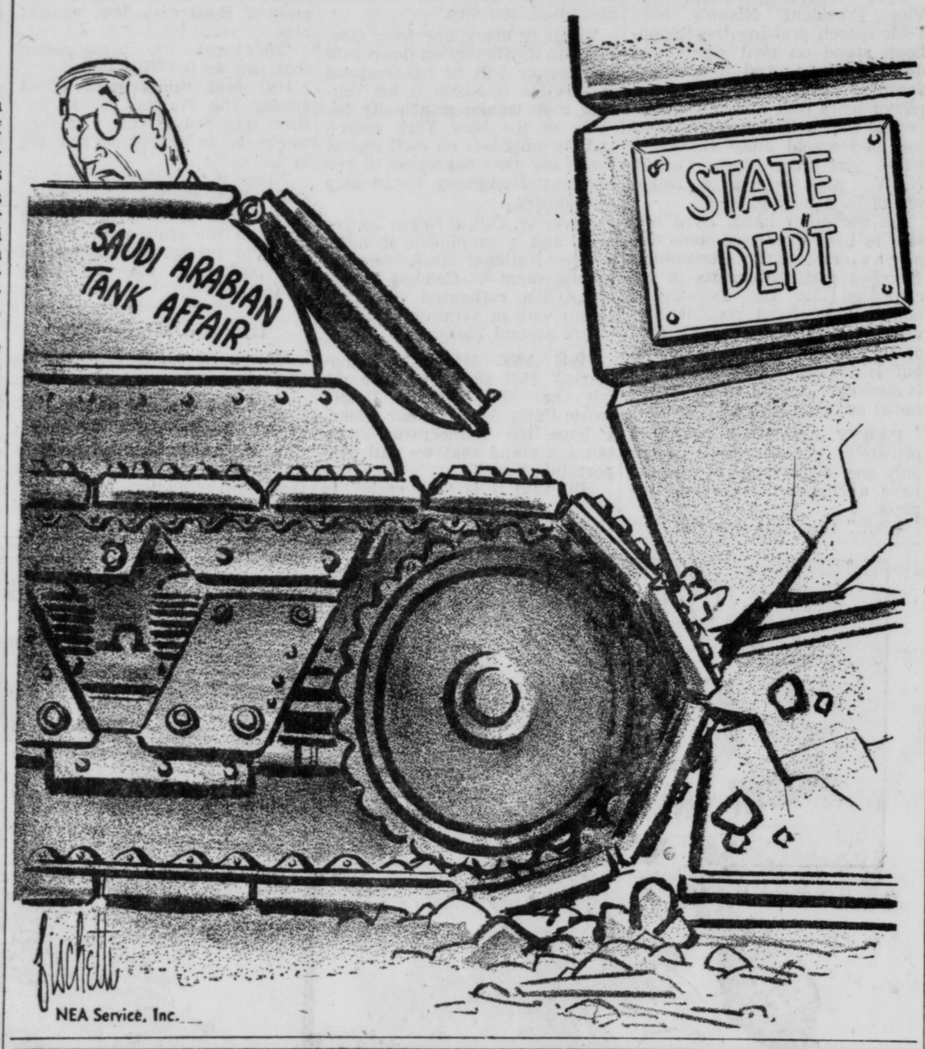

Like aureomycin, terramycin is a yellowish powder which was released for medical use in 1950 and soon became a top-seller in its field and is effective against the same broad range of diseases.

To sum up the antibiotics, today one dollar of every four spent for prescribed drugs goes for antibiotics. Forty per cent of all infectious illnesses that require medical attention are controlled by them. Pneumonia was the No. 1 killer as recently as World War 1 with the patient's chance of recovery about three to one. Now the odds are better than twenty to one with fatalities generally limited to complicated cases in the very young or the very old. We can all remember when mastoid infection was a deadly enemy of childhood. Today it is difficult for specialists to find enough cases in order to teach mastoid surgery to young doctors as these cases are cleared up so quickly with the antibiotics. Primary syphilis is relieved or cured by daily penicillin injections over a two-week period.

Perhaps the most dramatic success story of all is the cure of acute gonorrhoea by a single penicillin injection. A dozen years ago there was not a single instance of recovery from a proved case of inflammation of the lining of the heart valves (bacterial endocarditis). Today more than 60 per cent of these victims recover with antibiotics. Bacterial meningitis, formerly almost always fatal, now is curable in many instances. Childbed fever has almost disappeared as a threat to mothers. Even peritonitis (inflammation of the lining of the abdomen) has lost much of its deadliness; this is usually due to the rupture of an internal organ such as the appendix which spills its contents into the abdomen.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The eight months' rise in the Bureau of Labor Statistics wholesale price index has made it something to watch for inflationary pressures and future business trends.

The total increase hasn't been much, 1.9 points. It is not now considered alarming. With the index based on 1947-1949 prices of nearly 500 commodities as 100, the rise has been from 109.9 last May to 111.8 in January, 1956. The Feb. 14 weekly index stood at 112.1, a further fractional rise.

This is not the postwar peak. That was 114.8 in 1951, when there was some real Korean war inflation around.

Any further rise this year could have some serious political as well as economic consequences.

Where this will show is in the way wholesale price rises are passed on to consumers. This would be reflected in the much better known BLS "cost of living" index which is the basis for wage adjustments under many union labor contracts.

ONE OF THE BIGGEST talking points in the Eisenhower administration argument is that it has stabilized consumers' prices and prevented inflation. A two-point rise in the cost of living index, following a similar wholesale price index rise, would cause some real yelling.

Only an unusual combination of circumstances has kept the wholesale index, and the consumer index as well, from rising faster than they have.

In the wholesale index, farm products' prices have dropped steadily from 113 in 1951 and 91 last May to 84 in January, 1956. The processed foods index has dropped similarly from 111 in 1951 and 102 last May to 98 in January.

This decline in farm and food prices is what has kept the cost of living index steady at 114.2 last May and 114.7 in January. Consumers' prices on rent, transportation which includes autos, household furnishings and services have gone up.

WHILE THIS HAS BEEN going on, the wholesale index for all commodities other than farm and food products has gone up five points—from 115 last May to 120 in January.

This is where the real inflationary threat lies. A principal cause is the rise in steel prices—up 11 points in the past year and 45 points since 1949. The machinery index rose six points in the last year, 33 points since 1949.

Only in textiles and hides—which are mainly processed farm products—and a few miscellaneous commodities like notions and jewelry, have wholesale prices dropped.

Several explanations are given for what has been happening.

The principal one is general recovery from the post-Korean recession. Unemployment has been reduced. The demand for goods and services has increased. This gave the excuse for raising many wholesale prices.

WAGE INCREASES in steel, automobiles and other basic industries also provided an excuse for raising wholesale prices. More steel price increases are expected later this year.

With further wage increases from new union demands and from the minimum wage increases from 75 cents to a dollar an hour on March 1, other wholesale price increases are anticipated.

The seven per cent increase in freight rates now set for March 7 would have a similar upward pressure.

Industrial purchasing agents who buy large quantities of raw and semifinished materials claim the competition for available supplies today is so great that it has already forced prices up and inflation is here, right now.

Thanks to this ruse, the belfry has endured to the present day.

Eisenhower Is Now Seen As Having 'Dumped' Nixon

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 8—President Eisenhower seems to have "dumped" Vice-President Nixon off the Republican ticket for 1956.

There are denials galore purporting to contradict this, and there are wishful-thinking comments to the effect that Mr. Eisenhower is merely waiting for the Vice-President to make up his mind whether or not he wants the nomination. But anybody who has had the most meagre experience in politics can recognize the kiss of death when it is revealed to the naked eye.

FOR, AS NOW disclosed, Mr. Eisenhower told Mr. Nixon on Tuesday, Feb. 28, that he should "chart out his own course." In the next few days news dispatches began to quote "informed sources" as saying that the Vice-President could have the renomination if he wants it. But the fact of the matter is that the President deliberately sidestepped at his press conference this week a reporter's question which asked whether, if Mr. Nixon decided that he wanted the nomination, the President would support him for it.

It's customary and traditional for a presidential candidate not to try to announce his running mate in advance of a national convention. This is sound practice. But this week Mr. Eisenhower decided to discuss the vice-presidency with the press. He revealed that he actually had put it up to Mr. Nixon last week to say whether he wants to be renominated.

WHAT A STRANGE position in which to put Mr. Nixon! Certainly Mr. Nixon has wanted to run. The mere fact that Mr. Eisenhower opened the question wide by expressing to the vice-president a doubt as to whether Mr. Nixon wanted to run and telling the entire press about it will be construed by politicians everywhere as a subtle way of saying that the President hopes Mr. Nixon will decide that he doesn't wish to run.

As for the hints that the President feels Mr. Nixon is a "comer" and hence would do well later on, perhaps in 1960, this is political bunkum of the soft-soap variety. If Mr. Nixon is dropped by Mr. Eisenhower now, it is a mark of disapproval and a stigma of political defectiveness which Mr. Nixon will never be able to overcome. It means the end of any presidential ambitions for him if Mr. Eisenhower sticks to his present course.

The all-important question and answer at Wednesday's press conference, as made public in the stenographic transscript, reads as follows:

"MR. PRESIDENT, when you say, sir, you have suggested to Mr. Nixon that he chart out his course, is the implication of that, that if he elects to remain on the ticket you are content to have him as your running mate?"

"The President: Well, I am not going to be pushed into corners here and say—and right now, at this moment—say what I would do in a hypothetical question involving about five ifs. And I don't think you should expect me to.

"I do say this: I have no criticism of Vice President Nixon to make, either as a man, an associate or as my running mate on the ticket."

The President's answer shows embarrassment. He could easily have refused to discuss the subject any further. He could have stood on his statement in last week's press conference that he wouldn't discuss the Vice Presidential nomination till his own renomination had occurred. But instead Mr. Eisenhower chose to reveal some new facts to the reporters and thus opened up the entire subject. Now, whether he likes it or not, he has placed himself in the position of having refused to indorse Mr. Nixon as his running mate.

SOME COMFORT was taken by the friends of Mr. Nixon from the fact that the President said he had no criticism to make of Nixon "as a man, an associate or as my running mate on the ticket." This could mean, "running mate" in the past—in 1952 Also there's a vast difference between heaping praise and recognizing what the President's advisers have tried to put over on him—namely, that Nixon is an alleged liability on the ticket. In other words, the President likes Mr. Nixon but, if the Vice President has to be sacrificed on the altar of expediency, Mr. Eisenhower is evidently willing to cut loose from Mr. Nixon in order to make sure of winning an election.

Those advisers who have sold this line to Mr. Eisenhower do not know what a Pandora's box they are opening and what troubles lie ahead when Republicans start fighting Republicans over the Vice-President nomination. There are many Republicans who feel that Mr. Eisenhower ran out on the one man who made a spectacular fight against Communists in government and who now will feel that Mr. Eisenhower is running out on the man who exposed Alger Hiss.

FOR MR. NIXON'S main "crime" is that he offended Democrats on the Communist issue. There are weak-kneed Republicans who have been duped by the argument that it is necessary to get Democrats who were sore at Nixon to come over to the party. The facts is the Democrats who deserted their party on the anti-Communist issue in 1952 are disturbed today about the Eisenhower administration's position on certain phases of this controversy. They now will be even more disturbed when Mr. Nixon who symbolizes the anti-Communist fight and made a valient campaign in 1954 in eleven Western states, is punished for his outspoken comments in that campaign.

But in politics sincerity and loyalty are to be found usually among the regular organization men—the amateurs are the ones who believe that organization workers can be enthused by letting them down.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

It has been a long time since I analyzed the yellow-dog contract which a worker must sign when he joins any union, whether of the grand job-trust of the combined CIO and AFL or any of the so-called independents. Few Americans understand this bondage. The independents referred to are independent only in the sense that they hold themselves apart from the big combination. However, the individual members are not themselves independent but actually chattels of the unions which claim them.

A classical case of this kind occurred about 25 years ago. Mike Carrozzo, of Chicago, originally a bargaining-agent for Jim Colosimo, the first operator of brothels on a chain-store basis, had acquired a whole sheaf of charters for small unions of street laborers. The charters were issued to him by the national headquarters of the American Federation of Labor in Washington. The members were ignorant Italian immigrants and southern Negroes who had started the drift northward. Carrozzo was such a crook that even in Chicago his bid for naturalization was turned back twice. He had a friend named Joe Moreschi who rose, as scum will, to the presidency of the International Union of Hod-carriers and Common Laborers and moved from Chicago to Washington where this union became one of the fabulous rackets of Franklin D. Roosevelt's "wah effawt." For more than 30 years this international did not hold a convention and when it finally did hold one the hall was policed by a gang of cut-throats of Moreschi's regime. So the timid and feeble "opposition" couldn't utter a peep.

Carrozzo traded his sheaf of charters, and of course the members of the locals represented thereby, to Moreschi in return for a local charter in the international. This just cancelled the old little locals. Carrozzo continued to own the serfs as property and to collect as much as he wanted from their wages in the form of dues and assessments. There were no membership meetings or elections and the local went up for grabs when Carrozzo finally croaked, leaving a wondrous pure-bred stock farm and a big estate. He owed the government $250,000 in delinquencies and deficiencies on his income taxes.

The members of Dave Dubinsky's garment workers or of John L. Lewis's mine workers are no less serfs than those of the hod carriers.

Dubinsky's publicity recently announced that the garment workers were "lending" another million dollars to Israel for a hospital. Dubinsky can claim that he acted with approval because his constitution and other documents and the precedents authorize him to act in their name.

The coal miners under Lewis belatedly found that they had loaned $500,000 to Franklin D. Roosevelt for his second campaign in 1936 and later learned that they had loaned almost a million to the Committee for Industrial Organization, the forerunner of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, to finance the criminal terroristic activities in many states which brought the CIO into being. Lewis had authority under his charter to toss to the winds the treasury of the pinched and wan coal miners who are always moaning about their poverty. Lewis always hated Roosevelt, regarding him as a damned sissy, and in 1936 he refused to do business direct with the Democratic National Committee. He made Roosevelt phone for the money in instalments, put his requests into writing and send a courier over to the UMW headquarters to get the checks.

In 1940 Lewis supported the Trojan horse Willkie, but the CIO, under Philip Murray, an old henchman of Lewis in the mine workers, strung along with Roosevelt for the third term. So Lewis pulled out of the CIO and sent Murray a bill for the million. Murray whined that Lewis had worried him when he was down with a heart attack and compared his difficulty to the passion of Jesus Christ. The debt never was paid.

This will give you an incidental education in the pretense that workers freely and voluntarily choose unions to "represent" them. Lewis pulled the miners out of the AFL by his own decree on the spur of a moment. Murray, the sanctimonious faker, didn't peep against this as "undemocratic" procedure. In fact, he never had the gumption to strike a blow for any worker against any union all his life. Later, as related, Lewis pulled his outfit out of the CIO in a partisan political scrap. So the CIO was no longer their bargaining agent and they had nothing to say about that. Still later, Lewis put them back into the AFL and pulled them out once more, this time with the succinct phrase: "We disaffiliate!"

This also reveals the assumption of a power by unions to supervise the politics of their members and to punish them for supporting candidates of their own choice. In 1948, Murray canned Harry Bridges from the job of west coast CIO satrap because Bridges, along with all the Communists, was supporting Bubblehead Wallace. Murray supported Truman. Murray then chose from all the men available one Tim Flynn, a Yankee jailbird from Worcester with a multiple prison record for robbery and breaking and entering, and planted him in Bridges' job. The faceless slobs of the CIO on the west coast, not only the longshoremen but subjects of all the CIO rackets, had to submit to this. What else could they do?

Notwithstanding that and proof that for five years Murray had used Lee Pressman, a Communist, as his official counsel, Archbishop Cushing of Boston eulogized Murray as a great soul. I hear that advisers whom he trusted did not warn the archbishop. Perhaps they double-crossed him to plug their own interests with the union racketeers.

Even so, the responsibility was the archbishop's and he never rescinded his endorsement of a handwashing, bellyaching parasite who had a large guilt in the degradation of the American toiler by unionism.

Congress Is Told New Air Lines Difficult to Start

Washington, March 8 (AP)—Congress was told today established U. S. trunk airlines have become almost independent of government subsidies, but that it has been hard for new companies to get into the business.

Chairman Ross Rizley of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) contended the board's policies have been aimed at stimulating competition.

But in a statement prepared for a House Judiciary Subcommittee on antitrust matters he said the board "has had a real incentive....to select an existing carrier rather than a new company" when authorizing additional services on a strong and profitable route.

WHEN TRUNK airlines were in their infancy, Rizley said, Congress provided a subsidy through mail carrying payments. He said CAB since its start in 1938 has had a "knotty problem of insuring effective competition among our carriers, on the one hand, and simultaneously reducing the dependence of all our carriers upon federal subsidy support."

The CAB chairman said that in 1938 total mail pay was 16 million dollars, compared with other airline revenues of 27 million dollars. In 1954, he continued, mail pay for the trunk lines was 36 million dollars, of which only $3,880,000 was subsidy, and other revenues were 936 million dollars.

HE SAID his agency will ask only 20 million dollars subsidy for the whole industry this year, compared with 52½ million appropriated last year.

Rizley said it is true that the board, with elimination of subsidies in mind, has not certified new companies for passenger trunkline services. But he said it has certified 23 new companies as local service carriers, several to provide transoceanic services, a number for cargo services and three for experimental helicopter service.

Moreover, he said, the board's removal of some restrictions on nonscheduled airline operations has created more competition for the established scheduled airlines.

The subcommittee is looking into regulated industries and the government agencies which regulate them, with special attention to policies affecting competition.

Bird Navigators

Manitoba, Man. (AP)—A built-in ability to take readings from the sun relative to the time of day and good memories help birds navigate, says H. Albert Hochbaum in a new book. Hochbaum works at the Delta Waterfowl Research station here. He says the widely accepted theory that birds unse a sixth sense in migration is false. Ants and bees use the same ability to read sun positions, Hochbaum says. Human beings traveling in the open also use it, but with far less skill. Scientists believe that ducks have far better distance vision than human beings. Vision, memory and sun position are the bases for bird navigation, Hochbaum says.

Engineers to List Resources for Nuclear Clearing

Washington, March 8 (AP)—The chief of army engineers disclosed today a tentative plan to list all the engineering resources that could be mobilized to help rebuild after a nuclear attack.

Lt. Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis Jr. told a House government operations subcommittee studying civil defense that "we have informally agreed to accept responsibility under the Federal Civil Defense Administration (FCDA) for directing federal actvities designed to provide an inventory of national engineering resources available for civil defense emergency operations."

STURGIS also said, in prepared testimony, the army engineers have agreed to provide technical advice and guidance to the states in analyzing availability and adequacy of shelter.

However, he joined with military spokesmen who appeared earlier in opposing legislation to incorporate the Civil Defense Administration in the Department of Defense.

Sturgis said the engineers and FCDA have cooperated well in the past, notably in relief services after last year's New England floods.

Sturgis said that after a nuclear attack equipment, manpower and supplies would have to be mobilized "outside the area of severe damage," so it is important to maintain detailed engineering data "outside of principal target areas."

HE NOTED that the corps of engineers has a number of headquarters in smaller cities that probably would not be prime targets.

In the physical reconstruction after a nuclear attack, Sturgis said, first priority will have to be given army and air force needs and the engineers will have access to "civilian sources of construction power."

But he noted that military reconstruction would necessarily include a substantial amount of rebuilding of facilities that also serve civilians, such as highways, railroads, ports and utilities.

"There is no simple and easy solution for the separation of military and civil defense construction programs on a basis of independent self-sufficiency," he said.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

Now that the President has announced his "yes" decision, we shall find it difficult to be objective and impersonal concerning the outlook for the remainder of 1956.

President Eisenhower has extraordinary personal appeal. The well-worn words "magnetic and dynamic" apply to him in full force. As the polls show, he is the overwhelming choice of Americans for head man in these United States for the coming five years (that is, four more after 1956).

Therefore, when we think of coming events our guessing is likely to be somewhat unbalanced because of the sentimental attachment to the personality of the President.

However, the facts remain, as I have ventured to point out before the announcement, that there are momentous problems confronting the Administration and the American people, regardless of personalities.

Accordingly, if it is possible we should divorce our minds from personalities at least until after the nominating conventions. Between now and August, speech-making and cat-calling will be largely "words" and will have little to do with actual events and developments around the world.

Just as an example of how easy it is to accept "fallacies" for facts, I was struck by two articles in a little farm journal published at Cornell University, titled "Farm Economies." Inasmuch as the farm question will be prominent over coming weeks, perhaps a brief reference will interest you.

YOU HEAR much talk about how the immense "baby crop" and growth in population are assurances of prosperity and high prices in the decade ahead. The authors of an analysis of this question show, from historical trends, that contrary evidence: namely, "that prosperity causes babies" rather than the other way around. You will be amused by a diverting conclusion they draw from their study:

"The writers can find no justification for expecting prosperity for food or toy producers on the basis of big crops of babies from whom so much noise has been heard. As has been true since the days of our first president, the prosperity of agriculture depends upon prices which in turn depend largely on monetary factors."

The Ruminator might add that arguments and campaign speeches will not solve the farm problem, either. It is a PRICE problem, and a monetary problem, which we so frequently refer to in these articles.

IN A SECOND article the Cornell economists touch upon a forecasting trait which also you may recall we touch upon occasionally; namely, that it is common practice to formulate future projections of trends largely on the basis of what is occurring in the present or in the immediate past. For instance, if conditions are prosperous today, they will continue to be so tomorrow. That is a quite common method of thinking ahead (carelessly!).

Here is the way the authors worded their thought on forecasting:

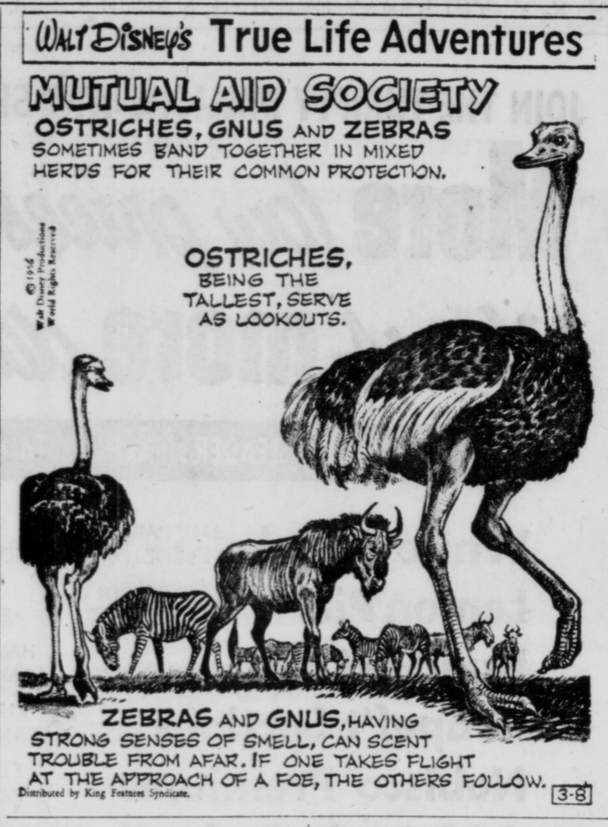

"It is a fundamental principle," they write, "that when one must make a forecast of something that does not repeat itself regularly, the safest procedure is to project into the future that which happened in the immediate past."

They then point out the fallacies of this procedure. As we know from history, trends turn when least expected, because of this forward-looking "fallacy."

GETTING to the question of "support prices" the economists stress the fact that government-supported monopoly prices for wheat "now guide the surplus into government elevators." Formerly, they add, "competitive prices guided surplus wheat down the throats of livestock."

Space won't permit further quotations, but the foregoing suggests the need for straight thinking as we get into an election year. Our minds will be bombarded with half truths and fallacious panaceas for all our troubles.

Actually, if we want the truth, the government is faced with a hopeless task in attempting artificially to control the prosperity of farmers. There is no solution, [illegible] present planning, merely stop-gap schemes. But we're in [illegible], that they cannot permit the old law of supply and demand to operate freely. So we have to discount much we hear.

Ulster Park

Ulster Park, March 8—Regular service will be held in the Reformed Church next Sunday at 9:45 a. m. The Rev. Harry E. Christiana, pastor, is in charge. Sunday school at 11 a. m. Choir rehearsal and class for church membership will be held in the church Thursday evening. The March meeting of the Woman's League for Service met at the home of Mrs. Emanuel Tron on Monday evening.

Ulster Grange 969 will hold its meeting in the hall Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kinsch are chairmen of the refreshment committee.

Richard C. Gendreau, Jr., of Ithaca spent the weekend with his parents.

Robert Campbell, Jr. who has been a patient at Kingston Hospital for some weeks, returned home.

John Gaal and family have moved to their new home in Port Ewen.

Dr. Richard Gordon and family of Newark, N. J. spent the weekend at their summer home here.

This Shamrock Cake Is St. Patrick's Day Delicacy

DAINTY MORSEL for St. Patrick's Day is this shamrock cake, shaded a delicate green with a vanilla-lime frosting.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX,
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Tinted a delicate green, flavored with fresh lime, here's a greeting to spring — and St. Patrick — for March 17th.

Vanilla-Lime Shamrock Cake (Yield: 12 servings)

Cream together 2/3 cup shortening, 1 1/3 cups sugar, 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract and 1 3/4 teaspoons grated fresh lime rind. Beat in 4 egg whites, one at a time. Blend in 1/2 teaspoon green vegetable coloring.

Sift 2 cups sifted cake flour with 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Add alternately to the batter with 1 cup milk. Beat 1/2 minute. Turn batter into 2 well-greased, lightly floured, 8-inch cake pans.

Bake 25 minutes or until done in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F.). Cool 10 minutes in pans. Turn out on wire cake racks to finish cooling.

Spread Creamy Vanilla-Lime frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Place an open-top shamrock cookie cutter in center of cake into which sprinkle green granulated sugar. Remove cookie cutter.

Creamy Vanilla-Lime Frosting (Yield: Sufficient for tops and sides of 2 round 8-inch layers)

Combine 1/2 cup sugar and 2 tablespoons cornstarch in a saucepan. Add 1/2 cup milk and cook until very thick, about 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Cool. Blend in 1/16 teaspoon salt and 1/2 cup softened butter or margarine. Gradually add 3 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 1 tablespoon light cream or undiluted evaporated milk. Stir in 1 teaspoon grated lime rind and 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Lamb stew with fresh vegtables and dumplings, baking powder biscuits, butter or margarine, green salad, vanilla-lime shamrock cake, coffee, tea, milk.

Union Center

Union Center, March 8—Mr. and Mrs. George Villielm, Jr., and son, Robert, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Catalin of Englewood, N. J.

The members of the Civic Club enjoyed a most interesting talk and movie on rheumatic fever at a recent meeting.

Regular church services will be held Sunday at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. Robert Baines is pastor.

Slice a couple of bananas into a baked pie shell. Cover with a packaged vanilla pudding mix. Top with whipped cream and shaved chocolate.

Along Capitol Corridors

BY CHARLES DUMAS

Albany, N. Y., March 9 (AP)—A sly old Democratic warrior named Herbert H. Lehman may answer the Republicans' $64,000 question: Who will be the GOP candidate for the U. S. Senate next fall?

The Republican front-runners are Atty. Gen. Jacob E. Javits, who nudged his hat into the ring last Sunday, and former State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern, who tossed in his topper with a flourish last month.

At first glance, the answer to the big question might appear to lie in simply selecting the "best man" since both are proven vote-getters.

But political questions are not so easily resolved. That's where Lehman comes in.

The 78-year-old former governor has not said whether he will seek re-election next fall, although Democratic leaders more or less are taking it for granted that he will. Still, he has not declared his intentions publicly, and there is behind-the-scenes hinting that he should retire.

Lehman's silence injects the elements of suspense and indecision not only into Democratic plans but the plans of Republicans as well.

When the Republican state committee meets next September to nominate a candidate, the first consideration will be — of course—victory. It's a hard fact of political life that candidates are tapped because they are most likely to win, rather than most likely to succeed in the office.

Geography is one of the key factors. And the Republican high command already has decided it would be most prudent to pick a man from New York city or environs. For one reason, the Democratic candidate almost certainly will be a New Yorker. For another, the other Senate seat is held by an upstater—Irving M. Ives, Norwich Republican.

Javits is a New York city resident, McGovern also is a "downstater," from New Rochelle.

OTHER COLDLY practical factors are race and religion. Religion is likely to weigh heavily in the GOP choice.

McGovern is a Roman Catholice. Lehman and Javits are Jews.

Political dopesters believe if Lehman decides to run again, McGovern will get the Republican nod, and if Lehman retires, Javits will make the race for the GOP.

THIS IS the reasoning:

Although Javits distinguished himself as the only Republican elected to statewide office in 1954, he has not endeared himself to the Republican leadership. Some GOP chieftains have been unable to conceal annoyance with what they consider displays of independence by the attorney general.

McGovern, however, is a tested member of the GOP team that was forged by former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and inherited by Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, Senate Leader Walter J. Mahoney and L. Judson Morhouse, the Republican state chairman.

The feeling is that, if Lehman should run, Javits would not be able to lure any sizeable number of Jewish votes from the veteran campaigner. Some Republicans maintain that any candidate could win with President Eisenhower heading the ticket. So why not Ray McGovern?

But, if Lehman withdrew, then Javits could be expected to attract many of the votes Lehman could count upon. With these ballots and the votes of upstate Republicans, Javits could shape up as a sure winner.

Javits himself has stated that he will seek a voice in the selection of his party's candidate. And McGovern has promised a "vigorous campaign" to win the nomination for himself.

But hard-headed political considerations have a way of prevailing over protests and compaign speeches. Lehman's decision may well decide the issue.

Hearing on Trains Adjourned to April 10

Albany, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—A Public Service Commission hearing on performance of New York Central trains has been adjourned until April 10.

Commissioner Spencer B. Eddy said yesterday he wants to know if an improvement in operations is "a flash in the pan or an indication of a permanent cure."

Central witnesses were cross-examined yesterday for five hours by Joseph J. Doran, first assistant counsel to the PSC.

Ernest C. Nickerson, Central vice president for passenger sales and service, said major trains had posted an 82 per cent on-time record for February.

Schedule changes and reorganization on the Central's management led principally to the improved service, he said, "and we intend to continue improving."

Nearly three quarters of Americans over 65 years old have incomes of less than $1,000 a year.

Plattekill

Plattekill, March 9—The Public Health Nursing Committee of the Town of Plattekill has enrolled to support the Blood Assurance Program being initiated by Plattekill Grange, it was announced by Mrs. Lillian Courter, president.

Mrs. Beulah Merwin, cochairman of the area blood program was the guest speaker at the meeting of the nursing committee held March 5 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Van Duser, New Hurley road.

Mrs. Merwin outlined the new civilian blood program which is organized under the auspices of the Medical Society of the State of New York and procedures in coordinating the program on local area level.

The members volunteered to assist the canteen committee which will serve refreshments to all donors at Plattekill Grange building, Monday, April 2, from 3 to 7 p. m.

Vice President Mrs. Stewart Pink presided wtih the following members present, Mrs. Simon Dubois, Mrs. Frank Coy, Mrs. Joseph Dragotta, Mrs. William Decker, Earl DeWitt and Mrs. Fred Bernard.

Also attending were Miss Esther Meredith and Mrs. Joyce Kops, public health nurses.

Nonwhite people more than 65 years old make up 7 per cent of that age group in the United States compared to 10 per cent among the total population.

Bloomington

Bloomington, March 8 — The Ladies' Missionary Society will hold its annual covered dish luncheon Thursday, March 15 at 12:30 p. m. Rolls, meat and dessert will be furnished. Hostesses will be Mrs. Joseph Yunker, Mrs. Cornelius R. Hotaling, Mrs. Karl Pedersen and Mrs. Mae Krom. The speaker will be Mrs. Dewitt Wells, chairman of missionary activities of the Missionary Union. Each member is asked to bring a covered dish for dinner and a guest. A short business meeting will be held after the luncheon and a special offering will be taken.

George Wormald of the high school Evangelism Fellowship was the speaker at last Sunday's church service. He also spoke at an evening service.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sagar Jr., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter. Mrs. Sagar and her daughter have returned from Benedictine Hospital.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning from Hearley Funeral Home, 105 Delaware avenue, Albany. Other arrangements are incomplete.

Geneva Authority

Albany, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—The Senate today gave final passage to a bill to establish a five-member Geneva Housing Authority. It would be empowered to provide low-rent housing and to rehabilitate sub-standard areas, subject to constitutional provisions. The bill, sponsored by Republican Assemblyman Robert M. Quigley of Ontario county, provides that the authority shall be dissolved if no bonds are outstanding after the act takes effect.

Their Worst Storm

Salamanca, N. Y., March 8 (AP) — The rampaging Allegheny river battered its way through its southwestern New York valley today in a flood described as the worst in local history. Vast areas of farm land were swamped, scores of families were forced out of their homes and this city's 9,000 residents held their collective breaths.

Union Refuses Government Plan For Settlement

Washington, March 8 (AP)—Union today turned down a government-proposed plan for settlement of the Westinghouse strike, now in its 144th day.

James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), said the decision by the 75-member conference board of the union was unanimous.

Carey told a news conference the union's action was "not to be considered a rejection, nor could it be considered an acceptance—it might be described that the plan so far is unacceptable."

Carey said he expected to meet today with Federal Mediation Service Director Joseph Finnegan to discuss what steps might be taken toward further negotiations with the Westinghouse Electric Corp.

THE COMPANY had accepted the settlement plan proposed by a three-man mediation service panel. The panel has now disbanded, saying that its job ended when it came up with its recommendations.

Carey criticized panel members, saying they had met with Westinghouse President G. A. Price and various company plant managers Friday night while the panel drafted its proposed peace terms. He said no such consultation had taken place with the IUE representatives.

"It is the first time in labor history, I believe, that one party and not the other was consulted in a situation of this kind," Carey said.

He added that he and the union still had a "high regard" for the federal mediation service and the members of the panel.

Carey said the motion adopted by the union's conference board, turning down the government plan, said there were a number of recommendations in it acceptable to the union, but several "including those regarding production standards and wage payment plans which are not clear."

CAREY SAID the company has not given the union sufficient safeguards against possible loss of wages and work opportunity for workers in the event of a shift from an incentive rate of pay to a straight day or hourly pay basis.

He said some 30,000 Westinghouse workers stood to lose as as much as 50 cents an hour or more pay unless this particular problem is cleared up.

The IUE conference board reached its decision in a meeting which broke up just before last midnight, but Carey withheld any announcement for nearly 12 hours.

The outcome of the session was fairly obvious, however, at its close.

Reid Asks . . .

misappropriation of funds or use of his position to further his own personal ambitions.

Mr. Reid reportedly charged at the meeting that village officials had failed to act with sufficient vigor in seeking flood relief, both temporary and permanent.

He said the mayor had failed to attend the area flood meeting in Kingston on Feb. 28, the meeting in Albany with Bertram A. Tallamy, chairman of the New York State Thruway Authority and that he had not joined the motorcade to see Gov. Harriman last week.

A SPOKESMAN for the village told The Freeman, however, that in each instance the mayor had been represented.

Mr. Reid reportedly said at the meeting that when the village "needed moral support Mayor Mooney failed to show."

Another citizen of the village said today that Mayor Mooney had gotten the village a firehouse "for which residents had been howling for the past 20 years," and that she felt the mayor had done a "pretty good job."

MR. REID SAID today that the creek was beginning to rise last weekend and "flood nerves" in the village were "terrific," particularly among the older residents.

He insisted that action taken Monday night was "not done for political reasons but we are going to get what we are justly entitled to." Both Mr. Reid and Mayor Mooney are Democrats.

Mayor Mooney could not be reached this morning for comment.

The mayor's annual salary is $75. Board members make $150.

Observers . . .

award to Saugerties, N. Y. for voluntary service in support of the air defense of the United States. Both citations were signed by Gen. E. E. Partridge, U. S. Air Force, commander-in-chief, Continental Air Defense Command.

Attending the presentation ceremonies were Lt. James W. Dearborn and M/Sgt. Samuel Moody, both of the White Plains Filter Center, and M/Sgt. Gerald Bobo of the Albany Filter Center. Also present were David S. Cunningham and Mrs. Stanley Longendyke, assistant chief observers and James McCullough, assistant chief of aircraft warning service for the state of New York. The observer on duty at the post was Mrs. Olga Strong.

Kingston Point

need for such housing and on that basis set aside sufficient funds, until March 31, 1956, to build such a project at no cost to the real estate taxpayers of the city. The commissioner also set aside $150,000 to assist the city in an urban renewal program. This sum plus the value of land already owned by the Authority in the Sixth Ward can be pyramided to nearly $600,000 as the result of matching funds from the federal government. It is obvious therefore that the key to an urban renewal program is one of housing and finance. No one can expect the city of Kingston to provide the $600,000 mentioned herein out of its own finances or from a bond issue. The city should accept state and federal aid now so that our depressed areas will have an opportunity to rebuild.

"Proposals soon to be announced for the redevelopment of the sixth ward makes provision for a school site, construction of residential units of multi-storied apartments, garden type homes, modern retail shopping centers, farmer's market, off street parking, warehouses and industrial units. None of these can be provided under any plan without first having adequate housing to provide the initial start and of course without the needed funds nothing can be done.

"The combination of a public housing program and an urban renewal program provides the city with approximately two million dollars as an initial start. Several million dollars of private funds will be available if a program is adopted.

"For any group of people to oppose this program simply because their state and national groups oppose the principle of such a program indicates a complete disregard for the welfare and progress of the city. For others to oppose it on the grounds that voters of the city of Kingston opposed an additional bond issue for public housing is an attempt to deprive the city of Kingston from all the benefits provided by laws that are adopted by a majority of the voters of the state. It was the large vote cast in the metropolitan cities that made Belleayre Mountain available to us.

"With the industrial expansion already under way the city of Kingston has the opportunity of becoming one of the major cities of the state. If the Common Council does not approve the Kingman Park project thereby making it possible for an urban renewal program the downtown section of the city will end up with a $40,000 plan and without adequate financing, that's where it will end."

Police Hunt

bound office workers scurried for cover.

The blue sedan roared off to the north on Broad street during the confusion. No one got its license number but a 15-year-old witness, William Shufflebotham, told police two or possibly three men were in the vehicle.

Nalikowski was rushed to Martland Medical Center and underwent surgery for one bullet in his back and another in his right elbow.

The hospital said 40 fellow members of Local 478, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen & Helpers, reported to the emergency ward within two hours to offer blood.

Police said they believe labor squabbles are behind the affair but declined to reveal what facts, if any, have been uncovered in the investigation.

Nalikowski himself has been in scrapes with the law. He was acquitted of the 1939 murder of a union rival but was sentenced to 10-to-12 years in 1942 for stabbing three men after a night of drinking. He was freed from prison in 1949.

Racehorse . . .

seeking him and the missing $88,000 in cash.

No shot were fired during the holdup.

The FBI said evidence found in an automobile stolen from a New Haven Railroad parking lot at Larchmont, N. Y., also in Westchester county, led agents to Paisnuer.

From there, the FBI said, the trail led to Paisnuer's auto in a Bronx garage. In the car trunk was $100,000 in bills, still in bank wrappers, agents said.

The $188,000 haul was the biggest cash bank robbery in the nation since the record $305,000 holdup last April of a Queens, New York City Bank.

AFTER GETTING inside the bank, the gunman bound and blindfolded Mrs. Kostolos and put her in a closet.

When teller Ernest Marino arrived he, too, was trussed up. J. Purdy Ungemack, the assistant treasurer, arrived a few minutes later, and was forced to open the vault and carry money-loaded containers to Mrs. Kostolos' car parked at the curb. The car was found minutes later in a parking lot.

A patrolman in a squad car saw the incident but believed it was a routine transfer of funds.

THE FBI SAID Paisnuer owns a pair of horses (Battleover and Centerpoise) which he ran at New England and Florida tracks. They said he previously owned two other horses (Benzelle and Lacey Heart).

The FBI had high praise for the cooperation of Sheriff John E. Hoy of Westchester county and Fred C. Ponty, Port Chester police chief.

Paisnuer, if convicted on federal bank robbery, faces at least 10 years in prison or even the death penalty, depending upon the verdict of a jury, the FBI said.

The U. S. population increased 2,810,000 in 1955.

Drunken Driver Pays $70 in Fines

William Clay, 30, of 89 South Manor avenue, was arrested early Wednesday afternoon on charges of driving while intoxicated, possessing no driver's license, and for operating a vehicle without a muffler.

Clay, who was picked up by Officers Joseph Kivlan and Michael Mazzuca at Broadway and East Union street, pleaded guilty today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino, who sentenced him to pay a fine of $70 or spend 70 days in jail. The fine was paid.

Lawrence Weishaupt, 30, of Hurley, was arrested on Downs street at 1:48 a. m., today by Officers Everett Emmick and Gilbert Gray on a charge of speeding. He was released under $50 bail for hearing in city court Friday. He was booked as a second offender, police said.

Lauren Peters, Jr., of Box 28, Lake Hill, was arrested at 7:53 p. m., yesterday on North Front street by Officer Mazzuca. He forfeited $15 bail through failure to appear in city court today.

Harry Freer, 59, of 173 Henry street, was arrested at 3:40 p. m., yesterday on charges of passing a school bus and operating a vehicle without glasses, as required by license. He forfeited $20 bail through failure to appear in court today.

Attorney John E. Gotelli appeared for the district attorney's office in court today.

Community Isolated

Warren, Pa., March 8 (AP)—Rising streams today isolated this northwestern Pennsylvania community of 15,000 and inundated low-lying areas in other towns. The raging streams, fed by days of downpour and melting snow, swirled over their banks and forced hundreds to flee their homes. All highways leading into Warren were covered with water and closed to travel. The Pennsylvania Bell Telephone Co. said all long-distance lines into Warren were out of order. Warren is about 60 miles east of Erie, Pa.

Seized Following Holdup

New York, March 8 (AP)—A 34-year-old longshoreman was seized today as he attempted to flee after a $65 holdup in the York Hotel, 488 Seventh avenue, near 36th street. The man identified himself to police as Peter James McDermott, of 451 W. 50th street. His clothing was grazed by one of five bullets fired by two patrolmen in halting his escape, police said. Police said that less than a half hour before the York Hotel robbery McDermott pulled a holdup in the Elite Hotel, 255 W 51st street, and escaped with $55.

Charged With Burglary

New York, March 8 (AP)—A man who described himself as a patrolman on the Washington, D. C., police force was seized today in the living room of a bronx home. He was booked by police on a charge of burglary. Nothing in the apartment was disturbed. The man apparently had gained entrance by climbing through a window which had been left open, police said. He was described as dazed. The intruder, who identified himself to police as Francis Tiernan, 26, of 440 E. 138th St., the Bronx, did not explain his presence in the home.

Record Wage Dividend

Rochester, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—Eastman Kodak Company today announced its record $32,100,000 wage dividend will be distributed among employes March 13. Directors voted the dividend last November. An estimated $22,800,000 will be distributed among Kodak's 34,700 employes here. Balance of the dividend is divided among other Kodak workers in the United States. Participants will receive $30.25 for each $1,000 earned in the 1951-55 five year period.

Saugerties Woman Hurt in Collision

Mary Loerzel, 25, of Saugerties, who was hurt in a two-car collision on Route 9W at Barclay Heights this morning, is reported in "fair" condition at Benedictine Hospital.

She suffered abrasions and contusions of the legs and left hip and other possible injuries, Kingston state police reported.

She was in collision with a pickup truck operated by Roger Bronkie, 38, of Port Ewen, Trooper H. S. Rhodes reported. Both vehicles were heavily damaged.

The Bronkie car, traveling north, stopped in the middle lane and turned left when the Loerzel car, traveling south, struck it in the right front, Trooper Rhodes said.

Mongolian wild asses are swift runners and can do 40 miles per hour without straining themselves.

Slight Cut

Washington, March 8 (AP)—Agriculture Department officials said today farmers apparently are cutting hog production only slightly despite a 40 per cent drop in prices from a year ago. Reports from livestock markets indicate, they said, that there is no great move to liquidate hog breeding stock. What farmers do in the way of producing pigs in the first half of this year may have a strong impact on economic conditions next fall in the politically important midwest livestock-grain belt. The price of hogs at voting time next November may be more influential than any other factor in determining how farmers vote for President and members of Congress.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Who remembers the movie, "Little Old New York" with Marion Davies. For one reason alone I would like to see that super-production again today with the replica of the Clermont which was built right here at our own Island Dock. According to the Kingston Freeman and Journal of Tuesday, January 2, 1923, a movie company, the Cosmopolitan Productions made arrangements with the Hudson River Day line to use the replica of the Clermont berthed in the lagoon at Kingston Point Park, where it had rested since the Hudson-Fulton celebration of 1909, but it was found that the craft was fast in the mud and in such a bad state of disrepair that it could not be floated. So a detailed replica was made of the model in the lagoon at the Island Dock and completed sometime in December of 1922, then taken to New York city, where it was anchored off 151st street. On the deck of this 'third' Clermont, the item read: "actors taking part of Washington Irving, Robert Fulton, the inventor himself, Cornelius Vanderbilt, John Jacob Astor, Larry Delavan and Patricia O'Day are walking its narrow decks in picturesque costumes of a century ago." I do not remember the Clermont being built at Island Dock, because I am sure my father would have taken me down to the dock to watch its progress, or perhaps because the other replica was at the Kingston Lagoon we were not excited about it. Now that we have neither it is sad, indeed.

At the time, an enterprising Kingstonian could have bought the replica of the Clermont with the strange engine, all in fine working order for only $2,361.85. That is what the Hudson River Day Line paid for it. That enterprising Kingstonian could have made a living from that famous replica to this day, by taking folks on a short run up or down the river, which would have more than paid for the care of it. In case of any naval parade it would have been in ship-shape. Instead the Day Line placed it in the lagoon, and in 1923 it was deep in mud.

Referring to the documents on the Hudson-Fulton celebration, on the final disposition of the Clermont it reads: "On September 13, 1910, the Executive Committee of the Commission voted to sell the Clermont to the Hudson River Day Line in consideration of a cash payment and repairs to the vessel equivalent to $2,361.85, and in further consideration of that company's agreement to maintain, care for, exhibit, and when practicable, operate the Clermont as an object lesson in the science of steam navigation." Perhaps some folks remember how the Clermont was brought into the Lagoon, and if it had ever moved from the spot once it was set there. In my time it was already in disrepair, and I have never seen it move from the spot. We often looked at it even close, when my father used to hire a rowboat and we wondered often about it, whether it would ever make even a short journey with its revolving side-wheels and big black smokestack. In no time, during my public school days in Kingston or KHS days, during our study of the first steamboat, and Robert Fulton, did anyone ever take us near the exact replica of the Clermont which was in our own Kingston Point Park.

Favors Sports Bill

Albany, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—The chairman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee predicts passage of a bill that would permit New York city to create an authority to construct and operate a 30-million-dollar sports center in Brooklyn. William H. Mackenzie said yesterday he knew of "no reason why the bill will not be passed" in both Houses of Legislature. Mackenzie's committee reported favorably on the bill yesterday. The Senate Finance Committee took identical action Tuesday.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

BY HAL BOYLE

New York (AP) — It is never pleasant for either party when a boy defies his father in picking out his life's career.

It was particularly difficult for Alfred R. Globus, who at 35 has become one of the youngest tycoons in American chemistry.

HE DEEPLY admired his father, who had come to this country alone at 16 and had sweated night and day to put himself through medical school. But young Globus himself was more interested in puttering with chemicals than learning medicine.

When his home chemistry set once blew some plaster off the family ceiling, the father told the youth:

"You come from a line of doctors. I am a doctor. You must be a doctor, too."

"I want to be a chemist," the boy replied.

"WHY?" ARGUED the father. "How can you discover something the professors of chemistry haven't already discovered?"

Angered at his son's resistance, the elder Globus cut off his pocket allowance. Alfred then started spending $2 of his $2.50 weekly school lunch money for the chemicals to continue his experiments.

While still a minor in college Alfred came home with some papers for his parents to sign as legal guardian. The papers had been drawn up by a Philadelphia firm which wanted to pay him $75 weekly royalties for a new process he had developed for the recovery of pure iron by electrolysis. The same firm, immediately after graduation, hired him as a consultant.

"MY FATHER never raised another objection," Alfred recalled, smiling. During the war, when aluminum and tungsten were in short supply, Globus worked up new techniques for extracting these vitally needed metals, techniques that became commercially impractical when peace came.

"I wound up with a loss," he admitted ruefully.

But he has since more than made up the loss. Holder of a number of valuable patents, sought after as a consultant, Globus also has made his mark as a businessman.

HE HEADS TWO firms of his own. One is the world's largest producer of powdered titanium, a lightweight, strong, noncorrosive metal. The other manufactures clorpactin, a powerful germicide, derived from chlorine, which he perfected after hundreds of experiments and years of research.

The chemical, which he feels ultimately will prove more beneficial to mankind than any known antibiotic, is used for a wide variety of purposes. They range from the treatment of bladder infections and athlete's foot to the sterilization of surgical instruments and the deodorization of dogs and cats.

Clorpactin is also being tested as a food preservative and as a fungicide to treat diseases of agricultural plants.

"ANTIBIOTICS attack only certain groups of germs," Globus explained, "and they often have harmful side effects. Cloropactin is effective against all forms of microorganisms—bacteria, fungi, viruses and spores. And they can't build up an immunity to it."

Globus said he recently had turned down a two million dollar bid from a major chemical firm for the exclusive rights to clorpactin and added thoughtfully:

"I just wonder what I'd do with such a sum of money. I don't need it. When you have put as much of your life into a thing as I have in this, you hate to turn it over to someone who may regard it only as another commerical venture."

WHAT GLOBUS really yearned to prove was that as a chemist he could do more for mankind than he could have if he had become a doctor. But he can't prove it to the man he'd most like to.

His father is no longer living.

Air Force Signs 13 Area Youths During February

It was announced today by S/Sgt. Larry Snyder, local U. S. Air Force recruiter that 13 local youths have enlisted in the United States Air Force during the month of February. These youths had their choice of taking their basic training at either Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas or Sampson Air Force Base in Geneva, N. Y.

Those who selected Sampson Air Force Base were William L. Brockway, 1955 graduate of Saugerties High School from Malden; Dominick D. Constantino, Highland; Albert P. Johnson, Box 80, RFD 3, Hurley; Frank R. Jones, 10 Hinsdale avenue; Barry R. Craft, Rt. 1, Box 26, Saugerties.

Those who selected Lackland Air Force Base were Robert Lee Craft, 241 Main street, Saugerties; William Peetoom, Malden, who attended St. Lawrence University before entering the Air Force; Peter A. Walthery, 24 North Manhein Boulevard, New Paltz; and Cortland Tice of Spring Glen.

Also enlisting in the WAF, United States Air Force were Dawn Boise, 148 Fair street, and Hope Maryon, 22 Summer street. Miss Maryon is a 1955 graduate from Saugerties High School and was employed by the Bell Telephone Co. before entering the air force. Miss Boise and Miss Maryon will undergo the WAF basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Also after serving four years with the U. S. Navy, Terrence O'Donnell of Box 126, Tillson, re-enlisted in the U. S. Air Force. Airman O'Donnell will undergo two weeks of indoc ation at Lackland Air I Base, Texas.

S/Sgt. Snyder also annou that all young men intere in the U. S. Air Force may select their basic training ter for the month of Ma The local air force recrui station is at 259 Fair street.

Cotton May Give U. S. Big Headache; Price War Seen

By SAM DAWSON

New York, March 8 (AP)—Cotton threatens today to give Uncle Sam another headache in his role as a world leader.

The fiber is deep in politics in this country. It seems about to set off an international squabble if not a price war.

Uncle Sam wants to sell his surplus cotton abroad at the world price. At first glance that would seem fair enough, since this country in recent years has lost most of its once dominant position in the world market because its price became higher than the world price. The United States could get back in the market by selling at what the others get.

THE RUB COMES in this: Much of the world markets we lost while our cotton was being priced above world prices was won by some of our friends, and particularly by some we are now strenuously wooing.

Just as the American cotton farmer would be horrified if Washington announced it would dump its huge surplus of government-owned cotton on the domestic market, so our friends are protesting at the proposal to offer this surplus on the world market at prices lower than those supported by government policy at home.

Uncle Sam's problem is real enough. He has stacked up in his warehouses some 11 million bales of cotton. He expects that to rise to 14 million bales by next August, the time Agriculture Secretary Benson has set for his drive to double U. S. cotton exports.

COTTON IS the big drag on farm exports now. From July to January this country shipped abroad 60 per cent less cotton than in the same seven month period in the previous fiscal year.

The fiber is one of the big items that has pushed the government's investment in price supported farm surpluses to a record high of nearly nine billion dollars—six billion actually owned by the government and three million pledged as collateral on outstanding price support loans.

Benson hopes to sell five million bales abroad by lowering the price to what other nations are getting. This would be almost double what we shipped last year but still only about half what we exported in the heydey of our cotton exporting history.

OTHER NATIONS with cotton to sell won't welcome this five million bale competition. Even more they'll fear the 11 or 12 million bales we could d... if we wished. And success in selling surplus cotton might lead us to eye world markets for our huge grain surpluses.

Right now our foreign policy is entangled with the troubled Middle East. In that area cotton exporting countries include Egypt, Pakistan, Syria and Turkey—all of whom we'd like on our side. Also, we woo Latin America — and Mexico, Brazil and Peru export cotton.

This is the foreign headache—their displeasure, even the possibility of setting off a price war—which Benson faces. International politics is now so complicated that a domestic issue like the cotton surplus can't be tailored to domestic politics alone.

THE DOMESTIC problem is a breeding ground for headaches, too. The surplus continues to grow despite attempts to cut back production. And American textile manufacturers complain of the invasion of this market by textiles from Japan, Germany and England.

The American manufacturer complains that the foreign mills not only employ cheaper labor but can buy cotton on the world market at lower prices than the government price supported level here. The manufacturers want these foreign imports curbed.

Benson apparently hopes that if he can dispose of some of our surplus cotton abroad he can head off part of the drive for curbs on imports. From any point of view, cotton is in politics up to its neck.

Alligerville

Alligerville, March 8—Ronald Sautosky was elected president of the Maple Manor 4-H Club at a recent meeting. Other officers are James Avery, vice president, Ronald Williams, secretary and Robert Avery, treasurer. Edward Williams was named news reporter.

The club made hassocks out of nail kegs and finished the project.

Mail Goes Through

Brownsville, Ky. (AP)—Automobile accidents don't stop Grover Johnson from making rounds on his rural mail route. But they do slow him down a bit. Johnson got out to look at a tire and an opened door knocked him to the ground when the car rolled backward. He was pinned under a wheel. A woman passing by jacked up the car enough for him to squirm free. He rested a few minutes, then proceeded on his route. Johnson got his wife to drive for him the next trip. Then the car overturned on the highway. Passersby helped the two put the car back on its wheels. The Johnsons got back into the car, discovered it would run, and delivered the rest of the mail.

Nurses Seek Aid Of Legislators on Scholarship Bill

District No. 11 New York State Nurses Association of Ulster and Greene counties is seeking the support of area legislators for the advanced nursing edcation scholarship bill now before the Senate Finance and Assembly Ways and Means Committee according to Miss Mary L. Keating, president of the association.

The scholarship bill if passed will establish 30 state scholarships of $750 each for advanced nursing education in teaching or administration of nursing for a duly licensed professional nurse. The appropriation will total $22,500.

Letters from the association asking support of the measure were directed to Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock and Assemblyman William E. Brady of Coxsackie.

Miss Keating said an increasing number of student nurses are expected in schools of nursing in the state, but there is a shortage of head nurses and administrators to teach them. She pointed out that there are 236 vacant positions in the state.

In addition to this, she said, the American Nurses Association is supporting President Eisenhower's recommendation for training practical nurses. This will create the problem of who will teach tem. Many qualified nurses still need managerial information along for these positions.

Mrs. Keating emphasized that approximately 2,000 nurses in the state are taking essential courses on a part time basis and it will be 10 years before they are ready.

Three Are Injured In 2-Car Collision

Three persons suffered minor injuries in a two-car collision about 5 p. m. yesterday at the intersection of Sawkill and Brabrant roads, town of Ulster, according to the Uister county sheriff's office.

William Hanneweber, 27, of RD 3, Box 254, Saugerties, and Edna Davis, 39, of RD Box 15, Kingston, suffered lacerations of the head and Fred Burnett, 43, of RD 2, Box 19, Kingston, scraped and bruised knees.

The sheriff's office reported that a 1953 passenger car, operated by Mr. Burnett, was approaching a 1952 passenger car, operated by Mr. Hannweber, proceeding in opposite directions on Sawkill road, when Mr. Burnett turned left into Brabrant road in the path of Mr. Hannweber. The right fender and grill of the Burnett vehicle and the right fender, grill and hood of the Hannweber car were reported damaged.

West Hurley Vols Oppose Removal Of TB Hospital

Closing of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital was unanimously opposed by the West Hurley Fire Company under a resolution adopted Tuesday at a regular meeting of the company. President Alfred Nussbaum presided at the meeting.

Members of the West Hurley Fire Company are now engaged in fire drills under the direction of Chief Lewis McNally. On Wednesday fifteen men participated in a drill. A practice rescue was made from a two-story building employing use of the 35-foot extension ladder. Entry was made by firemen equipped with Scott air packs, 200 feet of inch and a half charged line was provided. Fire police under the direction of Arthur K. Rice controlled traffic.

The next drill by the West Hurley volunteers will be held Saturday, March 10, at 2 p. m., for the men who did not make the drill last Wednesday.

YM Schedule Of Activities

A banquet for all boys of the YMCA who participated in the candy sale drive to help the World Service Fund will be held Monday, March 12, at 5:30 p. m.

There were 66 boys who took part in this drive and the three boys who sold the most candy will be awarded prizes. The boys are Nicky Sweet of Mt. Marion, Nicky Morris of 45 Hasbrouck avenue and Ray Christiana of 64 Smith avenue.

The banquet will be prepared by seven mothers of the Parents Club. They are Mrs. Alberta Bovee, Mrs. Margaret Farrell, Mrs. Kathryn Fassbender, Mrs. Audrey Potter, Mrs. Helen Potter, Mrs. Dorothy Jonescu, and Mrs. Joseph O'Connor.

Other guests will include Herbert DeKay, president of the board of directors, Chester Baltz, chairman of the boys committee, Lou Schafer, general secretary, and Bill Irland, physical director. The dinner arrangement and prizes are under the direction of "Doc" Rebollo, youth director.

Classes Resume

Kalkaska, Mich., March 8 (AP) — The board of education ordered classes resumed at Kalkaska High School today after a row with a parent group brought resignations from the school superintendent and principal and halted classes Tuesday and yesterday. Superintendent Gordon G. Caswell quit his post after parents protested to the school board remarks he made at a student disciplinary assembly.

Pledged to Stevenson

Sacramento, Calif., March 8 (AP)—A slate of 136 delegates pledged to vote for Adlai Stevenson for President at the Democratic party's August nomination convention in Chicago was filed yesterday. Each delegate will have half a vote. That is the third slate to qualify for the June 5 presidential primary election ballot. The others are pledged to the re-election of President Eisenhower and to Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Pays $10 Fine

Merritt W. Stevens, 24, of Hillside avenue, Hurley, was arrested Wednesday by the Ulster county sheriff's office on a charge of driving without an operator's license. He paid a fine of $10 when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Roger Loughran of the town of Hurley. Arrest of Mr. Stevens followed an investigation by the sheriff's office after they received a complaint from a Hurley resident that someone was driving at a reckless speed through the streets of Hurley.

The average clerical office worker on the West Coast got $64 a week in 1955.

Tormented Middle East On Edge of War Again

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Air raid sirens wail once again in the cities of the tormented Middle East. Mock attacks drive grim civilians to cover. More and more on both sides of the line fears of war are heard.

Since World War 2 the Middle East has been on the edge of a volcano. It erupted in fury in 1948, subsided in 1949, and now once again rumbles even more ominously because so much more seems to be at stake this time. Not only the future of the eight-year-old state of Israel and her Arab neighbors hangs in the balance. The danger for the rest of the world lies in the buried riches of the area—the greatest oil reserves in the world. The reserves of other raw materials.

THE TERRITORY has dominated the ambitions of conquerors from ancient Rome to Hitler. It is the gateway from the west to the Orient, a potential bulwark against invasion or a jumping off place for conquest.

Since Israel became a nation the western powers have been concerned with maintaining a balance between the Israelis and their Arab neighbors. Recently a new element has been thrust into an explosive situation. Communist arms to Egypt and other Arab states threaten to tip that delicate balance and set off the war neither responsibile Arabs nor responsible Israels really want.

THE MODERN story of Zionist dreams of a national Jewish home might date back to World War 1. On Nov. 2, 1917, when Britain was involved in plans to extend her Middle East influence after the war, Foreign Secretary Lord Balfour wrote to the Zionists saying he looked with favor on a national Jewish home in Palestine. The Balfour declaration was to play an important role in later developments.

In 1923, the League of Nations granted Britain a mandate over Palestine, and in Britain's mandate the Balfour declaration was incorporated. For years Jewish groups quietly built their strength in Palestine, determined to hold Britain to the Balfour promise.

UNDERGROUND violence broke out after World War 2. Britain threw the whole Palestine issue into the lap of the United Nations in 1947. The UN came up with a plan of partition of Palestine between Arabs and Jews—two independent states—with Jerusalem an international city. Palestine was to have an economic union with common customs and currency and joint utilities and economic development.

Britain announced plans to surrender her mandate May 15, 1948. Just one day before that deadline, David Ben-Gurion, now Israel's premier, proclaimed the birth of the state of Israel.

Haganah, the steeled underground organization which fought the British, burst from its hiding places and was transformed overnight into an efficient army which brought to a standstill the troops of five surrounding Arab states. UN efforts brought about an armistice in 1949.

UNDER THE 1947 UN partition plan, Israel would have had about 5,500 square miles. At the end of the hostilities, Israeli forces had overrun territory, including the Negev desert, totaling 7,800 square miles with a population of almost 800,000.

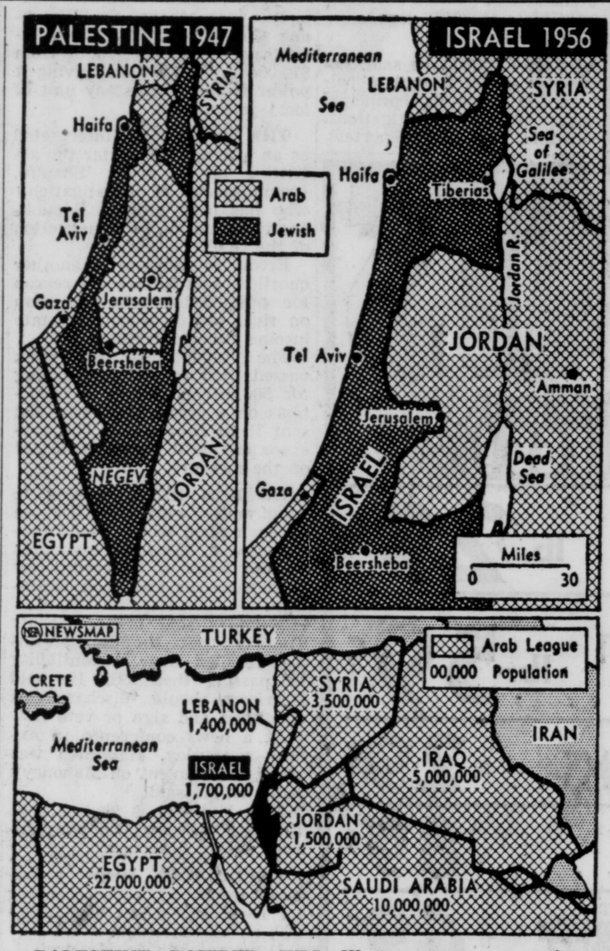

There was no peace, however. The Arabs soon were to demand what they had rejected before the war broke out—partition of Palestine more or less on the lines of the 1947 UN line. Israel cession.

MEANWHILE, a cancer was growing in the Middle East. As many as 900,000 refugees, driven by the war from their homes in Palestine, are camped in hovels in Arab states. The Arab states do not want to assimilate these people, on the ground this would be final recognition of the Israeli conquest of the land where they once lived. Israel, once willing to take back a token number of them—perhaps about 100,000—by now is unwilling to take any at all. The refugees have created an emotional issue.

In 1950, in the face of a UN decision to internationalize the holy city of Jerusalem, Israel moved her parliament there and proclaimed it Israel's capital. The Arab state of Jordan holds half of Jerusalem, the Israelis the other half.

The United States, Britain and France are standing by a 1950 declaration intended to stem the flow of arms to both sides and warning of action against aggression. The idea was to maintain the balance of arms in the area and preserve the slender thread of peace.

Late in 1955 the Communist bloc upset the balance. Egypt negotiated a deal with Czechoslovakia for arms, and shipments soon arrived at Alexandria. Syria, too, got an offer of arms. The Kremlin leadership seemed bent on fomenting, at the least, a high degree of tension, or at the worst a local war. Such a war would do much to cut off the west from the entire area. But even the Kremlin would be circumspect about all-out war in the Middle East. It carries the danger of World War 3—the war for which the Communist world is not yet ready.

PALESTINE POWDER KEG—Western eyes are again on Palestine where intensified Israeli-Arab friction could spark off World War III. Maps show basis of dispute. On Nov. 28, 1948, the UN voted to establish an independent Jewish state, dividing Palestine among Israel, Egypt and Jordan as shown at upper left. This went into effect May 15, 1948. Arabs were incensed and soon invaded the Israel area. In the battles that followed they were beaten. Early in 1949, fighting ceased when the UN succeeded in gaining an armistice, setting new boundaries, which still are "official" today, as shown on upper right map. There has been sporadic fighting ever since. Now Arab League leaders—Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Syria—are trying to line up on their side Jordan, with its Arab Legion, the Arab world's best fighting force.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Trumps Can't Take Punches

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Would you like to play the South hand at game in spades? It looks easy, doesn't it? You're off three aces, but you should make the rest.

It isn't as easy as it looks. In fact, South cannot make four spades against good defense. The hand shows the value of making declarer ruff, even when he seems to have powerful trumps.

West leads the jack of diamonds, holding the trick. He continues with another diamond, and South ruffs.

South hopefully draws three rounds of trumps, but they fail to break. He then switches to clubs.

South hopefully draws three rounds of trumps, but they fail to break. He then switches to clubs.

West plays the eight of clubs at the first trick in that suit, and East holds off. East takes the next club and then leads a third club for his partner to ruff.

West leads another diamond, and South ruffs with his last trump. Now South can take two clubs, but West saves the ace of hearts and a diamond to set the contract two.

South is no better off if he draws all the trumps instead of leaving one out. East will then lead a heart on taking the ace of clubs. West takes the ace of hearts and leads a diamond, whereupon East takes two diamond tricks.

South's glorious trump suit simply isn't strong enough to withstand the constant "punching" when the opponents lead diamonds.

Time for Sermon?

Houston, Tex. (AP)—The Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Miller were so wrapped up in a conversation while walking downtown that they walked past a red traffic light. A police officer whistled them to a halt and asked what was going on. "We were just careless," Miller admitted. "What do I have to do?" asked the officer. "Preach you a sermon?"

GOP to Try . . .

they received registration plates for 1957.

The measure is supported by the joint legislative committee on unsatisfied judgments, which has been studying the subject.

While the Assembly may approve it, its fate in the Senate is uncertain. Insurance companies furnished the major opposition to the 1953 measure.

Harriman is stumping for a plan advanced by his insurance superintendent, Leffert Holz. That plan would provide for an unsatisfied judgment fund, raised by assessing unisured motorists $30 apiece each year.

THE FUND WOULD be used to compensate injured persons for damages by uninsured drivers, and by uninsured out-of-state cars, hit-and-run drivers and operators of stolen cars.

Harriman says he frowns upon straight compulsory insurance because it makes no provision for out-of-state hit-and-run and stolen-car drivers. He might sign the GOP bill as — in his judgment—better than no law at all.

Austin W. Erwin of Geneseo, a member of the "Watchdog" Committee and chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said in a radio interview that a meeting of all members of the "watchdog unit" would be called shortly after the 1956 legislative session closed.

AT THAT TIME, he said, the committee would formulate policy on the scope and principal targets of its investigations. Meanwhile, he told reporters, committee investigators were scattered "all over the place" laying the groundwork.

While Erwin did not name any cities, reporters felt it was safe to assume the probers were concentrating on communities run by Democratic administrations.

The Republican legislative majorities strengthened the "Watchdog Committee" last week, increasing its working funds from $75,000 to $250,000 and giving it power to investigate any unit of local government.

THE MOVE WAS interpreted as an attempt to counter the activities of J. Irwin Shapiro, (commissioner of investigation,) who has been probing Republican-run counties, to the irritation of the GOP.

Erwin, in response to another question, said he saw no reason for compromise with Harriman on rival plans for cutting state income taxes this year.

The Republicans last week passed their tax-cut bill, calling for 50 million dollars in reductions on a percentage basis, and sent it to Harriman. The governor has until March 16 to act on the measure.

HE HAS BEEN seeking to compromise with the GOP on his own plan, which would provide for a 40-million reduction on the basis of $5 credits for each taxpayer and each dependent.

Mahoney said in the Senate Tuesday that the Republicans had fulfilled their responsibility by passing their bill. He said Harriman should "discharge his obligation and sign or veto it."

At a news conference in Auburn yesterday, Harriman was asked to comment on Mahoney's remarks. He said:

"Mr. Mahoney is playing politics with tax cuts. That's my answer to Mr. Mahoney."

REPUBLICAN budget reductions would set state spending for fiscal 1956-57 at $1,471,200,000, an all-time high.

Democrats vigorously protested the cuts before joining the Republicans in giving unanimous passage to the bill. Democratic protests centered on deletion of $9,900,000 sought by Harriman for New York city, as a share of motor-vehicle license fees collected by the state.

Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, who rarely participates in floor debate, descended from the speaker's chair to—as he put it —"lay to rest forever" cries that New York city was being "short-changed" by the Legislature.

Heck said the claim was "a sham and a hoax" devised by New York Democrats to "load all of their responsibilities and their ills on the Republican Legislature." He maintained the city received fair treatment.

But Eugene F. Bannigan, Democratic minority leader, insisted the city had been maltreated and he said Democrats would continue to protest.

Accuse Soviet

Article 4 of the Manila Treaty, which provides that all member nations consult on common action in event of aggression.

In the conference yesterday Pakistan got backing from the other members in her call for a plebiscite in Kashmir, disputed between Pakistan and India. The SEATO action got sharp reaction in New Delhi.

Secretary of State Dulles told his seven colleagues in today's closed session the United States is keeping a strong military guard on southeast Asia.

IN A PUBLIC statement Dulles said those who study the record of this meeting "will find that much was accomplished."

"I hope they will also find evidence of the spirit which made this accomplishment possible," he said. "We were drawn together and we are held together by the noblest and most enlightened human sentiments—that is, a desire to help one another.

"To that sentiment is added another—the quality of courage which impels us to face danger together and not to seek immunity in the hope that someone else will suffer first from aggression. So long as those two sentiments animate our countries, this organization will be strong and productive of much good."

Dulles told his fellow foreign ministers at a closed session of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization parley that the United States is keeping the same force available for the area that he disclosed a year ago at the Bangkok SEATO meeting.

But "there has been considerable improvement in terms of modernization," he added.

Dulles stated at the SEATO Council meeting last year that the total strength of the United States in southeast Asia plus the total immediately available for instant use was equal to if not greater than the peak American strength reached in the Pacific during World War 2.

THE MILITARY discusion came during the closing day of three-day SEATO Council attended by the foreign ministers of the United States, Australia, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, Philippines, Thailand and Britain. Delegates revealed little of what transpired since their talk was based on a highly secret report from their military advisers.

Dulles said he agreed with other delegates that each SEATO country should have a force of its own. But he added the major concept on which "we are acting" is the deterrent effort of the striking power available to any SEATO member in event of aggression.

The meeting also heard proposals for greater coordination between the military and economic wings of SEATO and for appointment of an economic officer to each national representative at the organization's permanent headquarters in Bangkok. Both were referred to the council's permanent working body for study.

Audrey Hepburn In Demand for Europe Films Too

Hollywood, March 8 (AP)—Oscar winner Audrey Hepburn is back in Hollywood—but not for long.

Though she is one of the movies' most brilliant new stars, Miss Hepburn has made only one picture here. Now she's making another—and singing and dancing in it.

The picture is called "Funny Face," and she co-stars with Fred Astaire. When I visited the set, she was waiting to make some tests. She plays a fashion model in the picture and looked the part. Her outfit was a white satin sheath, so narrow she could hardly walk, with an immense bolt of pink satin enveloping her topside. A teardrop rhinestone at her hairline gave her an East India look.

"NO, I DON'T dance in this outfit," she laughed. "But I do a lot of dancing. I've been in training for it, and it's quite difficult getting back into shape. I haven't danced professionally for four years, and I haven't even had the time to keep up my lessons. I did some when I was here for 'Sabrina' and more recently during 'War and Peace.'"

Those familiar with the Hepburn saga will remember that she started her professional career as a dancer. Her first show, she recalled, was "High Button Shoes" in London. Her last musical was a revue called "Sauce Piquante," though she did some dancing in a British film she would like to forget.

..SHE'LL ALSO sing in "Funny Face"—"though you can scarcely call it that." She has some numbers here, then she and Astaire will do one in the streets of Paris in May. She'll remain in Europe after that.

"I have to do 'Ariane' with Billy Wilder over there," she reported. "Then I expect to do 'L'Aiglon' with Willy Wyler; he's working on the script now."

But she's not anti-Hollywood. "I love it here," she said. "They just keep making pictures in Europe, that's all. And I don't mind; Europe is my home, you know. Perhaps some day I would like to settle here. But right now I find it exciting to travel."

SHE AND HUSBAND Mel Ferrer have rented Anatole Litvak's home on the Beach at Malibu. She reported both are recuperating from their journeys from Europe.

"Both of us came straight through—almost 30 hours in the air," she said wearily. "We lost eight hours en route, and I still find myself ready for bed at four in the afternoon. And I wake up at four in the morning unable to sleep."

Although Hollywood would like it, there is little chance she will be settling here for some years to some. Her husband has been busy directing and acting in European films. Her international flavor and appeal make her much in demand for movies made over there. She has two commitments under an old English contract, plus five she owes to Paramount.

Accidents Pile Up

Austin, Tex. (AP) — Airman Charles R. Bradshaw already had a cast on his right leg, broke in a traffic accident when his car went out of control on wet pavement and hit a power pole. Bradshaw, 17, wasn't hurt. But his brother, Clyde, was cut around the face and Charles accompanied Clyde in an ambulance to the hospital. Enroute, the ambulance tangled with two cars. Charles suffered bruises in his back, an arm—and to the leg in the cast.

Dances to Bankruptcy

Peoria, Ill. (AP)—In a bankruptcy petition filed in federal court by Paul G. King, he listed his biggest liabilty as $1,368 owed for dancing lessons to a school of dancing. He incurred his dancing debt sometime in 1953.

Telephone Major Help In 'High Tor' Music

New York, March 8 (AP)—While the piano is essential to composer Arthur Schwartz, he found the telephone a very handy instrument in writing the music for "High Tor," a play with music starring Bing Crosby and Julie Andrews. It comes to the TV home audience next Saturday on "Ford Star Jubilee" (CBS, 9:30 p. m., Eastern Time.)

To go back a bit, High Tor is a mountain overlooking the beautiful Hudson river valley. Playwright Maxwell Anderson took it as the location and title for his successful Broadway play of several seasons ago. It's the story of a contemporary guy (Crosby) who owns High Tor and to the distress of his fiancee (Nancy Olson) falls in love with the ghost of a Dutch girl (Miss Andrews) dead 300 years.

THE COMPOSER of such hits as "Dancing in the Dark" and "Something to Remember You By," Schwartz leads an extraordinary double life as a producer. In producing the filmed version of "High Tor" for television Schwartz says "the composer in me sometimes struggled with the producer in me."

But, speaking only of the composer in Schwartz, there was no difficulty because of the fact that he was in Hollywood and Anderson, who wrote the lyrics, was in Stamford, Conn. This was thanks to the telephone. Schwartz explained the other day that this was the way they worked:

Anderson sent Schwartz the lyrics for a song entitled "Living One Day at a Time." Schwartz liked the title but didn't care for the lyrics. He composed part of a melody and then phoned Anderson across the country and hummed it to him. Anderson recorded the incomplete melody and within 24 hours phoned Schwartz new lyrics which the composer liked. So he completed the melody and the song became a reality.

ON ANOTHER occasion Schwartz, the composer, must supply a new song within 48 hours for a special spot in the show. He telephoned Anderson in the evening and Anderson said, "How about the title, 'Sad Is the Life of a Sailor's Wife'?" Could Anderson hurry up some lyrics for composer Schwartz at the behest of producer Schwartz?

Sure, said Anderson. He telephoned the lyrics to Schwartz the next morning. Then Schwartz sat down at the piano and composed the music in an hour. When he proudly reported this feat to a CBS executive, the executive asked rather plaintively:

"Why are we paying you so much for such short hours?"

Crosby himself is delighted with the tunes and the production in general, Schwartz reported, quoting him as saying: "'High Tor' is something I'll be proud to have been a part of for the rest of my life."

THE FILMING of the 90-minute show in Hollywood took only 12 days, an incredibly short time for a quality picture. Movie producers, hearing of the quick shooting time, came running to see how it was being done.

Schwartz credited director James Neilson for the quick shooting time. A noted TV film director, Neilson shot out of continuity and always had another scene ready while filming one.

The next "Ford Star Jubilee" assignment for Schwartz will be producing "Twentieth Century," starring Orson Welles and Betty Grable. Then he and Howard Dietz, who has written the lyrics for many of Schwartz' hits, will combine to do an hour and a half musical version of John Hersey's "A Bell for Adano," now scheduled on "Ford Star Jubilee" in June.

Favors Summer Session On Highway Program

Auburn, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—Gov. Harriman, reaffirming his support of the Diefendorf Commission's proposals, has threatened a special summer session of the Legislature to enact a highway program satisfactory to the administration.

In a speech last night at a Cayuga county Democratic committee dinner, Harriman said that at least a 10-year road program was necessary to improve state highways.

He again declared his support for a 1-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax increase and a bond issue for highways. The one-cent increase, he said, would cost the average automobile owner about $8 a year.

Harriman referred to the refusal of the GOP Assembly majority to allow a floor vote Tuesday on his program for distributing federal surplus foods to welfare recipients.

He termed the action "shocking Republican arrogance" and "utter callousness for the welfare of our needy families and disregard for the interest of the farmers."

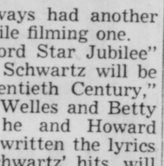

The governor also charged Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson with abandoning "the interest of New York farmers when he refused to rule in favor of a comprehensive milk marketing order for New York and northern New Jersey, which I had urged."

Scout Council President Will Tour Puerto Rico

John Aalto, president of Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America and Mrs. Aalto of Ashokan will be leaving Idlewild International Airport Friday for a week tour of Puerto Rico.

Mr. Aalto, district engineer of Catskill System of New York city water supply will be one of 10 Boy Scout Council presidents of New York and New Jersey invited to visit Puerto Rico to help in the extension of the Scouting movement on the island.

A dinner reception Friday night will start the week long round of activities scheduled for the council presidents and their guests.

ON SUNDAY an advancement ceremony and Scouting show for the visitors will be slated at Rio Piedraz, south of San Juan at the University of Puerto Rico. A trip to Arecibo for a conference is scheduled for Monday and the reception at the Governor's mansion will be held Tuesday.

Trips to the outlying cities of Mayaguez and Ponce are planned for Wednesday and a boat ride to the Virgin Islands is on the program for Thursday. The return trip will begin Friday.

Mr. Aalto, who is traveling at his own expense has been active in scouting approximately four years. In that time he has served on the troop committee and as chairman of Troop 63, Ashokan. He was a member of the executive board of the council for one year and became council president in May. He also served two years on the council camp committee.

There are 15,000,000 unwanted dogs and 25,000,000 unwanted cats in the United States, according to the National Humane Society.

Lewd Books Still Flood Newsstands, Legislators Say

Albany, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—Sexy and immoral publications still flood the newsstands, a legislative committee said today as it called again for vigorous self-policing by publishers.

The joint committee on obscene publications reported "marked improvement" in comic books although "an undersirable emphasis on violence remains."

IN IT'S ANNUAL report to the Legislature, the committee recommended sharply increased penalties for violators of obscenity statutes, broader federal laws to curb transportation of lurid material, and encouragement for local campaigns against pornography.

Mandatory jail terms for third offenders of obscenity laws is a key proposal in the committee's eight-bill program before the Legislature. Two other committee bills have won final approval.

The committee is headed by Assemblyman James A. Fitz-Patrick, Plattsburgh Republican.

FitzPatrick said the television and radio industry had taken "positive steps to improve the type and quality of programs for children."

BUT DESPITE self-regulation, the committee said, "much emphasis on violence and brutality remains."

"Irresponsible publishers and distributors continue to openly exploit sex, immorality and perversion for profit by flooding newsstands with . . . flagrantly objectionable material," the committee said.

"The reading of this material contributes to juvenile delinquency . . . and poses a serious threat to our standards of morality," the committee reported.

THE COMMITTEE recommended that the "responsible elements within the magazine publishing business should take immediate action to curb those whose persistent abuse and perversion of freedom of the press is seriously discrediting the industry."

The group said local campaigns against obscenity had been effective and "should be encouraged and should receive support and co-operation from governmental agencies and from the Legislature."

Printing Exhibit Shows All Latest Developments

Baltimore, March 8 (AP)—The latest developments in printing were put on exhibit here today. They drew the interest of more than 350 newspaper production executives from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, West Virginia, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

The occasion was the Mid-Atlantic Newspaper Mechanical Conference.

High speed presses, electronic engraving machines, special machinery and tools for use in type composition are being displayed by 21 manufacturing and supply firms throughout the three-day affair.

The conference is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Assn. and the New Jersey Press Assn. in cooperation with the Maryland Press Assn.

The first formal business session of the conference was a question and answer session presided over by Ralph R. Cramer, business manager of Grit, of Williamsport, Pa.

Featured speakers during the meetings will include the president of the three cooperating newspaper associations—C. Neill Baylor, MPA; Rolland L. Adams, PNPA, and John E. Kerney, NJPA.

Tomorrow's activities feature a session on pressroom and stereotyping operations at which Edward A. Kennedy, pressroom foreman of the New Brunswick, N. J., Home-News, and Wilmer F. Eagens, mechanical coordinator of production, Norristown, Pa., Times-Herald, will preside.

Harold C. Berg, mechanical superintendent of the Wilmington (Del.) News-Journal, the conferenec co-chairman, will lead off Friday's program by calling the group to order at 9:30 a. m.

Plunges 16 Stories

New York, March 8 (AP)—Samuel Meltzer, 61-year-old real estate dealer, jumped or fell 16 stories to his death last night from the window of his office at 1440 Broadway, at 40th street, police reported. He lived at 429 Beach 119th street, Belle Harbor, Far Rockaway, Queens. The body was discovered on a second-floor setback atop a wire grating protecting the skylight of a restaurant in the building.

Britain to Invite Molotov to London

London, March 8 (AP)—Britain is going to invite Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov to London soon for talks on how to safeguard the Vietnamese armistice, informed diplomats said today.

They reported Prime Minister Eden's government may suggest to Moscow that Molotov accompany Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev on their visit to this country next month.

Because Britain and Russia presided over the 1954 Geneva conference which produced the Indochina armistice, Molotov and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd are recognized as co-chairmen of the armistice machinery.

The decision to invite Molotov for two-party talks, based on a suggestion by Indian Prime Minister Nehru, is in effect a rejection of a Communist proposal for a new 12-power conference to consider next steps in divided Viet Nam.

Sweden Issues Balloon Protest

Stockholm, Sweden, March 8 (AP)—Sweden announced today she has protested to Washington and Oslo against the appearance of "several balloons with technical equipment" over Swedish soil.

Soviet Russia recently objected that similar balloons had wafted over her territory. The State Department later announced that launchings from European sites had been halted. But that the balloons were only collecting weather information which would be supplied to other countries.

The Swedish foreign office said the balloons had been observed over southwest Sweden in late January and early February. They said one of the balloons had been picked up near Stockholm.

Authorities said the balloon carried camera and radio equipment, was of American origin and had been launched from Norway.

The government demanded that violations of Swedish territory be avoided in the future.

Greek Airliner Smashed

London, March 8 (AP)—The control panel aboard a four-engine Greek airliner was found smashed today at London Airport just before the plane was due to leave for Paris and Athens. A representative of the Greek National Airline told newsmen: "It looks like sabotage. But sabotage of a very stupid nature. We have sent to Amsterdam for a new set of instruments." The incident occurred at a time of high feeling between Greece and Britain over the future of Cyprus, Britain's island colony in the East Mediterranean. Greek-speaking Cypriots demanding union with Greece have been waging a terror campaign there for months.

New Contracts To Benefit All, GM Head Says

Washington, March 8 (AP)—President Harlow H. Curtice of General Motors Corp. said today both dealers and customers will benefit from revisions in GM's dealer contracts.

He added in testimony prepared for a Senate commerce subcommittee that he favors amending the law to permit steps toward curbing "bootlegging" of new cars through unfranchised dealers.

GM announced Feb. 10 revisions in its dealer contract policy. Curtice said these became effective March 1. In addition, he said, a new post of executive vice president in charge of dealer relations was created this week to give dealers "a direct line of communication to the top management of General Motors."

NAMED TO the post was Ivan L. Wiles, a GM vice president and general manager of the Buick Division.

Curtice and other GM officials were called before a subcommittee headed by Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.), which has been studying auto marketing practices. Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., is to appear Monday.

The subcommittee is the second to look into GM dealers relations in this Congress. A Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee headed by Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) heard numerous complaints from dealers last fall.

Curtice said today those complaints "were not documented or, in our opinion, reasonably established." But he said his firm got busy and since then has made 13 changes in its dealer contracts.

THESE INCLUDE helping a dealer get rid of his buildings, equipment and stocks in case of franchise cancellation. Longer term contracts and more specific provisions for judging dealers' performance also were included, along with more factory help for the dealer.

A "high standard of ethics" in advertising also is demanded, he said. He conceded some GM divisional representatives had encouraged ads of the type which he said indulges in cut-throat tactics and emphasizes price unduly, but added:

"These representatives now understand the corporation's position with respect to this practice."

Curtice said GM tried two years ago to get Justice Department approval of a contract provision to prevent dealer sales of cars at wholesale. It would have required the dealer first to offer the cars at cost to the factory. The department's anti-trust division refused.

"OUR COUNSEL do not believe that such a clause in the contract would be illegal under existing laws," Curtice said, "but the Department of Justice apparently believes otherwise."

If legislation could be drafted to legalize such a clause, Curtice added, "I would be in favor of it."

He said he favored also giving dealers exclusive territorial rights, but such provisions were dropped in 1949 to avoid conflict with antitrust laws.

Hearst Says U. S. Must Assure Asia Of Strong Support

Tokyo, March 8 (AP)—William Randolph Hearst Jr. said today the United States must make it clear to the remaining free nations of Asia that America will fight to prevent further Communist conquest in this area.

The editor in chief of the Hearst newspapers spoke to the Foreign Correspondents Club of Tokyo.

The people of free Asia, he said, should be made to know that:

America has no intention of "abandoning Asia to the Communists."

"That we will take all measures required by the circumstances of any new aggression."

"That we are, if necessary, prepared to fight to help safeguard our Asian allies from Communist conquest."

Once those facts are clear to Asians, Hearst declared, "they will find the strength, the courage and the self-reliance to face up to Communist threats, pressures, and blandishments."

Hearst praised President Eisenhower's "policy of firmness (against Red aggression) without provocation; of keeping up our guard; and of encouragement to those countries which wish to remain free and avoid becoming slave states of either Red China or Soviet Russia."

Juan Peron ruled Argentina for 10 years before he was forced out in 1955.

"At Beech-Nut I discovered how tempting an apple can be"

Says Connie Clausen on the DR. SPOCK TV Program

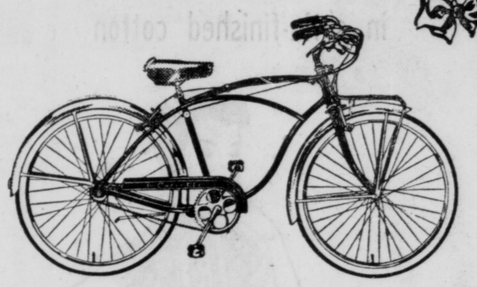

Watching Beech-Nut prepare fruits for babies is wonderful at harvest time! They use apples that could go in a gift basket. And Beech-Nut makes sure Baby gets all their goodness—cooks apples with skins on. That way, vitamins and minerals usually lost are captured for a baby to grow on. Beech-Nut always puts babies' needs first.

Jacqueline Quigley Betrothed to Wed

JACQUELINE QUIGLEY

(Olan Mills photo)

Mr. and Mrs. James Quigley, 19 South Wall street announce the engagement of their daughter, Jacqueline Anne to Ronald Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Matthews, 201 East Union street.

Miss Quigley is a graduate of the Academy of St. Ursula and is employed by IBM in Kingston.

Her fiance attended Kingston High School and is now with the U. S. Navy stationed at Norfolk, Va., aboard the USS Laffey.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Local Jurors Return Unanimous Verdict Of 'Not Guilty'

At the Coach House Players presentation of "Night of January 16th" held in the George Washington School auditorium, 12 jury members selected from the audience returned a unanimous verdict of "not guilty" at the conclusion of the tense courtroom drama.

Serving on the jury were John Larkin, as foreman; Henry Singer, David Fletcher, Mrs. Max Brugman, Miss Linda Hall, George Dahl, Miss Mary Prisco, Mrs. David Page, Hemran Eaton, Miss Ruth Gromoll, Mrs. Betty Burger and Miss Mary Donnelly.

Among the actors Sara Mulligan contributed a well-etched portrait of a woman so in love that she is unmoral. She gave us a woman who seemed cold and indifferent, but with a smoldering fire that leaves no room for ethics or anything except loyalty to the man she loves. The Messers. Whitmore and Glennon handled the legal assignments with an admirable air of confidence and assurity. Hildagarde Swayzie played the bereaved widow with sensitivity and elegance and just the right touches of fire.

The play will have a repeat performance tonight with curtain at 8:30 p. m.

Five New Members Installed by DAR

Five new members were welcomed into the Wiltwyck Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution at a recent March meeting. They are Mrs. Roscoe Irwin, Mrs. Melvin R. Coutant, Mrs. Edmund Czerwinski, Mrs. Robert MacKinnon and Miss Elizabeth Empringham.

Miss Ruth Duryea, DAR national vice chairman of American Indians discussed various Indian Schools supported by the DAR and showed slides. Mrs. Ralph Harper sang several Indian songs, one of which was an original tribal song.

The April meeting will be the annual spring luncheon with the Saugerties Chapter as guests. Mrs. Frank B. Cuff, national chairman of press relations will be the luncheon speaker.

It was also announced that a card party will be held at the Chapter House on March 14, at 1:30 p. m. and 7 p. m.

MRS. RONALD HOOPER

Stafford-Hooper Nuptials Are Held

Miss Nancy Ann Stafford, daughter of Mrs. Helen Stafford of 24 Jane street, Saugerties, became the bride of Ronald Hooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hooper of Esopus, Sunday, March 4 at 2 p. m. in the Saugerties Methodist Church. The Rev. George Werner, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Jane Tonnessen was at the organ and Joseph Carrado sang the "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For the occasion, the church was decorated with white baskets of gladioli and white satin ribbon marked the pews.

Miss Stafford was given in marriage by her father. She wore a Spanish lace bodice gown with long sleeves ending in tapered points over the hands. The lace was draped over nylon tulle tiers to form a billowing skirt which terminated in a sweep train. Her double tiered veil of imported French illusion veiling was secured to a plateau of lace trimmed with sequins and pearls. The bride carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

Mrs. Doris Schelling of Saugerties was the matron of honor for her sister. She wore a gown of petal pink nylon tulle fashioned with a draped bodice and layers of tiny lace and tulle ruffles forming a bouffant skirt. A half hat of taffetta and pearls matched the gown and she carried a bouquet of colonial blue carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Angelo and Miss Jeannette Zeilman of Saugerties. They wore gowns of French blue styled like the matron of honor.

Miss Diane Francello was the flower girl in a gown of white Chantilly lace over petal pink taffeta. The bodice was fitted with an off-shoulder neckline and the skirt was formed of layers of lace ruffles. Miss Francello also wore a face framing hat of lace and carried a small colonial bouquet of blue carnations with streamers.

Best man for his brother was Richard Hooper and ushers included Vincent Williams and George Jordon.

A reception was held at the Flamingo for approximately 100 guests. Harry Freer and his orchestra played for the occasion.

Miss Stafford is a graduate of Saugerties High School and is employed by IBM in Kingston.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Kingston High School and is also employed by IBM in Kingston.

For her wedding trip to Washington, D. C., the bride chose a champagne dress with brown accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The couple will reside at 63 Elmendorf street.

DOES SHE PAY HIS HOTEL BILL?

A young woman writes me: "About a year ago I met a young man who was stationed here in our city. I saw quite a lot of him at that time. After six months he was sent overseas and we have been corresponding regularly. He is going to be discharged soon and is planning to visit here for about a week before going home. Since we do not have a guest room in our house, I was wondering just what would be the correct thing for me to do in regard to putting him up at the hotel. Should I make the reservations for him and is it my place to pay for his room? He will be spending a great deal of time at my house and therefore will not have to pay for too many meals, but I am puzzled as to what to do about sleeping accomodations."

If you are living at home with your familly, it would be proper as well as generous for your father to pay for his hotel room, but you yourself could not do this.

Evening Bag with Day Clothes

Dear Mrs. Post: For my birthday last week I received a metallic evening bag. It is very pretty but as I never wear evening clothes, I'm afraid this bag will be absolutely useless to me. A friend tells me that I may properly carry it with day clothes. Will you please tell me if she is right about this. I have always thought that such a bag as this was proper only with evening clothes.

Answer: I think you can make your day clothes look more like evening ones after dark by carrying just such an evening bag.

Replacing Broken Present

Dear Mrs. Post: A wedding gift I myself mailed was damaged. I was in a hurry to get it off and didn't have it insured. Am I now obliged to replace this?

Answer: I am sorry to have to say that it is your responsibility. It may not be possible to send her a duplicate, but I do think you should send her at least a token present.

Invitations to a large wedding, a simple wedding or a country wedding are described in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-10, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Music Group Holds Monthly Meeting

The Music Appreciation Group met at the home of Mrs. Frank Thompson, West Chestnut street recently and Mrs. John Sterley conducted the program, "Small Instrumental Pieces."

Mrs. Sterley said in part that since the beginning of time, people have told stories. Myths, fables, legends and folk tales, handed down for centuries by word of mouth, have become a heritage reflecting the thought and history of the past. Some were preserved by pictures and carvings found buried in the sands of Egypt and the Orient.

In ancient days, many men became professional story tellers, traveling through the country telling tales of valor and adventure.

Mrs. Sterley also pointed out that musicians told stories, but in musical sound. Not all music has a story but if the composer has given a title or motto to his piece, or if the music has a legitimate historical or literary background, it will aid the development of the composer's plan and increase the listener's enjoyment to learn and think about it.

Records used for illustration during the meeting were by MacDowell, Debussey, Schumann, Grieg, Paderewski and Kreisler.

A social hour followed with Mrs. Conrad Heiselman presiding at tea. Mrs. Robert H. Pixley was co-hostess.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Sterley, North Manor avenue. Mrs. Frank Thompson will be co-nostess.

The program will be devoted to the 200th anniversary of the birth of the great composer, Wolfgang Mozart.

ROSARY SOCIETY HOLDS BREAKFAST —Annual Rosary Society Communion Breakfast of Immaculate Conception Church was held Sunday, March 4. Present at the breakfast were (l-r) Mrs. Lucy Gorman, recording secretary; Miss Mary Rylewicz, president; the Rev. Fire Company Opposes Removal of TB Hospital

Further opposition to removal of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital from Kingston to Oneonta was expressed by members of Rescue Hook and Ladder Co. No. 2 in a March 2 letter to the Board of Supervisors.

The letter, signed by Peter Murphy, secretary, said the fire company membership had adopted a resolution at a recent meeting opposing the removal of the hospital.

Miss Anne Dittmar Plans June Wedding

ANNE C. DITTMAR

(Luckey, Platt photo)

Mr. and Mrs. George Dittmar of 269 Smith avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Anne Catherine, to Alton Riley, son of Clifford E. Riley of Hope, R. I., and the late Mrs. Riley.

Miss Dittmar is a graduate of Rider College and is employed as a secretary by Electrol Incorporated.

Her fiance served with the U. S. Air Force and is employed by IBM at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Lincoln Labs, Lexington, Mass.

A June wedding is planned.

End of the Week

Hagerstown, Md. (AP) — Dr. Vernon Richardson in a sermon at St. Paul's Methodist Church here, summed up a sign of the times: "Our great-grandparents called it the Holy Sabbath. Our grandparents called it the Sabbath. Our father and mother called it Sunday. We call it the weekend."

To Form Government

Jakarta, Indonesia, March 8 (AP)—Ex-Premier Ali Sastroamidjojo, head of the anti-western Nationalist party, was asked today to form Indonesia's first elected government. President Soekarno called on Sastroamidjojo to present a cabinet by March 16 to replace Premier Burhanuddin Harahap's caretaker government. Sastroamidjojo, a former ambassador to Washington, was expected to organize a Communist-supported coaliation.

EXPERIENCE
..is the best teacher

Her First Driving Lesson

Watching Gramp' and Dad drive the car so often gave Sis the idea she knew what it was all about . . . until she took the wheel for the first time. Then she learned about coordinating mind and muscle and observing cars, courtesy and common sense. Experience taught her there's often more than meets the eye.

In certain foods, too, experience is the best teacher. Looking at a can of Grandma Brown's Home-Baked Beans on the store shelf will never reveal their true goodness or prove to you how deliciously different old-fashioned, home-baked beans really are. Try Grandma Brown's Beans and enjoy a revealing, rewarding experience in canned beans. Really wonderful!

Buy 'em in the familiar brown-and-yellow can, or heat and serve 'em right in the convenient casserole can. Real home-baked beans in cans!

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Red Cross Goal Here Is $1,500

Woodstock, March 8 — The goal for the annual American Red Cross drive for funds for the Woodstock township is $1,500, it has been announced by Mrs. Victor Allen and Mrs. Harry Kennedy, cochairmen. They will be assisted in the drive by the following workers: Woodstock—Mrs. William Pierpoint, Mrs. John Derry, Mrs. Barry Neher, Mrs. Andre Neher, Mrs. John Marcato, Mrs. Earl Jones, Mrs. Robert Hastie, Mrs. Frank Happy, Mrs. Vernon Wilber, Mrs. William Melville, Mrs. Jack Gibson, Mrs. Willard Berryan, Mrs. Sterling Wolven, Mrs. Stewart Strickland, Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, Miss Lois Wilcox, Mrs. Harley Parks, Mrs. Telford Graham, Mrs. Nicholas Blazy, Mrs. M. Coutant, Mrs. E. C. Shults, Mrs. E. A. Jurist, Mrs. R. Baumgarten, Mrs. Alvin Moscowitz, Mrs. Harmon Fischer, Mrs. Robert Gordon, Mrs. J. V. van Rijn, Mrs. Lloyd Lund, Mrs. Earl Winslow; Wittenberg—Mrs. Robert Cashdollar, Mrs. Roger Granzier; Lake Hill—Mrs. Eugene Howland, Mrs. Bruce Taylor; Bearsville—Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Van Wagonen; Shady—Mrs. Bill Miller, Mrs. Alfred Allen; Willow—Mrs. K. Vance, Mrs. E. Jessup; Zena—Mrs. David Mellert, Mrs. William Vogel.

Anyone wishing to contribute directly may send check or money order to Mrs. Victor Allen or Mrs. Harry Kennedy, Bearsville.

Choral Group Is Reorganized Here

Woodstock, March 8 — The Woodstock Choral Group held its reorganization meeting last Thursday evening at the Town Hall. The large number of active members present were highly gratified to have so well-known a musician as Alexander Semmler give his services as director and conductor. Mrs. Norma Champanier is the assistant director. The group elected as officers Mrs. Francis Stein, secretary; Ronald Glass treasurer; and Mrs. Helen Ann Robbins, librarian.

Mr. Semmler's compositions for symphony and chamber music are frequently heard in broadcasts from this country and from the Canadian stations. Area residents remember with pleasure his Christmas operetta, "Full of Wonder," performed at Woodstock a year ago.

The group expects to become active in the widening musical life of the community, and to present many public appearances in the Woodstock area. The new director hopes to expand the group into a large chorus. There are therefore openings for all voices, and a cordial invitation is extended to those who care to join.

SAGE Film to BeShown At Town Hall, March 1

Woodstock, March 8—The public is cordially invited to attend a special program, sponsored by the Woodstock Square Club, which will be the showing of the U. S. Air Continental Defense Picture SAGE at the Woodstock Town Hall, Thursday, March 15. The picture will be shown at 8 p. m., and at 1:15, admission free to everyone.

There will also be a special showing for children at the Woodstock School auditorium on the same day at 3 p. m.

The business meeting of the Woodstock Square Club will be held in the fire hall at 9 p. m., after the first showing of the picture. The 1956 membership drive and other business will be discussed.

Square Dance Slated At School on March 10

Woodstock, March 8 — Plans were completed for a square dance to be held for adults on Saturday evening, March 10, at the Woodstock School, during the regular meeting of the Woodstock Parent-Teacher Association last Thursday night. The party will have a St. Patrick's Day theme, and everyone is requested to come in country clothes. The women are asked to wear low heels. A fine of $1 will be imposed on anyone who comes formally dressed.

A recommendation was made that those present at the meeting were in favor of a raise in salary for the teachers at the Woodstock School. In order to bring this about it was stated that members of the P-TA should attend the annual School District No. 2, the first Tuesday in May, at 7:30 p. m. at the school, when the budget will be discussed at the open meeting.

Dr. Edward F. Shea of Kingston was the guest speaker for the evening, speaking on the subject of geriatrics. In discussing the problems of the aged, he said that they tend to lose interest. He stated that if older people can keep busy they will prevent deterioration. Today, he said, the age of 65 is no longer considered old.

Brownies to Participate In Scout Cookie Sale

Woodstock, March 8 — The members of the Woodstock Brownie troops will also participate in the Girl Scout cookie sale from March 12 to 17. The younger girls, however, may only take orders from their immediate neighborhood in which they live. Each Brownie will be supervised by a grownup who will help her check orders carefully and see that the deliveries are made promptly and correctly.

Reformed Church

Woodstock, March 8—At the 11 a. m. service on Sunday, March 11, in the Dutch Reformed Church of Woodstock, the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, pastor, will preach on "The Bible, the Church and the Creeds."

Parents attending church with younger children are invited to leave them in the care of the nursery maintained during the service. If there are infants, they should be brought in portable cribs.

The Lydian Society will meet in the basement of the church on Wednesday, March 14, at 2 p. m., and final arrangements will be made for the clam chowder supper to be served the following evening in the church basement, on Thursday, March 15.

Six New Scouts Join Boy Scout Troop 34

Woodstock, March 8 — Last Monday night, Woodstock Boy Scout Troop 34 welcomed six new boys into the troop. They are Roger and Dennis May, Alan Lund, David Van de Bogart, Robin Cantine and Richard Ostrander.

At the meeting, the Woodstock troop had its usual formations and also learned some fundamentals of close-order drill. The remainder of the evening consisted of talks by Scoutmaster Albert Hoffman and the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, followed by the usual game period.

Members of the scout committee who were present were gratified at the response to their plea for new members, but still are of the opinion that there are many other boys in Woodstock township of scout age who might like to join. They or their parents are urged to contact the Rev. Mr. Todd or Gene Rathgeber for further information. For those boys who need transportation, the committee will see that it is provided.

School Group Attends New Paltz Institute

Woodstock, March 8 — Mrs. Charles Rapp and Theodore Lee of the board of trustees of Woodstock School District No. 2, and Walter Van Wagenen, principal, attended the meeting of the Mid-Hudson School Board Institute at New Paltz last Wednesday evening. The institute, made up of 46 school boards of this area, featured as the topic of discussion "Your School District's Public Relations Program." The subject was enlarged upon as follows by three speakers: J. Davies of Yorktown Heights, "As Seen by a Board Member"; E. A. Gray, member of the New York State Citizens' Committee, "As Seen by a Citizen"; and Edwin Rozell, city editor of the Poughkeepsie New Yorker, "As Seen by the Press."

The last part of the evening was given over to a panel consisting of the above discussion questions submitted by the various groups attending.

SchoolBasketballTeam Defeats Tillson, 40-8

Woodstock, March 8 — The Woodstock School basketball team continued undefeated in the league last Friday afternoon at Tillson, playing four minute quarters, to win 40 to 8. Woodstock scored three baskets in the first quarter, two by Brown, one by Christiana, with no score by Tillson.

In the second quarter Woodstock scored 12 points, two goals by Brown, one each by Christiana, and Shultz each scored one foul point. The half ended 18-0.

Kullman scored four times in the third quarter, and Robert Foster and Elwyn one each. Tillson scored two foul points, and the third quarter ended 20-2.

In the fourth quarter R. Forster scored twice and Ed Shultz three times while the visitors made three baskets and the game ended 40-8.

This Friday there will be no game in the league, but Woodstock will play Monday, March 12, at 3:45 p. m., against Marbletown at Woodstock. This is the last league game the locals need to finish undefeated in the league.

Guild Food Sale Dates

Woodstock, March 8 — The Ladies' Guild of St. Gregory's Episcopal Church have designated the following dates for their summer food sales: July 7, August 4 and September 1. The summer bazaar will be held on July 17.

Village Notes

Woodstock, March 8 — Mrs. Katherine Burgevin of the Bearsville road, returned Sunday after spending three weeks in Clearwater, Fla.

Flo Alheim of Woodstock is in the Kingston Hospital.

Mrs. Walenah Cashdollar has been ill at her home in Wittenberg.

Mrs. Rosabelle Mann and her brother Leonard McDonald returned last Friday from a trip south.

Direct sunlight and glaring lights should not be allowed to strike a baby's eyes, says the Better Vision Institute.

Synagogue News

TEMPLE EMANUEL services will be held Friday with Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom preaching on the theme, "The Living Memory of a Prophet—Comments on Stephen Wise." Music will be under the direction of Cantor Julian Lohre. There will be an Oneg Shabbath following the service. Mrs. Morris Newman will be hostess. Dr. Harold Newman's daughter will be named at the service. Religious school will be held Sunday at 9:30 a. m. in the social hall of Temple Emanuel. Hebrew school will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday following regular school at Jewish Community Center. Tri-Sisterhood meeting will be held March 14 at 8 p. m. at Agudas Achim Synagogue. There will be a public Seder Monday, March 26 with services at 5:4 in the Temple followed by the Seder meal at 6:30 p. m. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Morris Tucker, 35 Miller lane.

By Popular Demand

Salt Lake City (AP)—A movie goer looked pained as he handed his ticket to theatre manager Lou Sorensen. "How come," he wanted to know, "you advertise popular prices but the tickets cost $1. Tickets that cost $1 aren't popular." "We like 'em," said Sorensen.

Zoning Dispute

Hamilton, Ohio, March 8 (AP)—Mrs. Thomas Cooney of Middletown parked herself in a chair yesterday at the office of Butler county Building Commissioner Randell Coning and said she was prepared to stay "six months if necessary" in a zoning dispute. Mrs. Cooney propped her feet up in another chair and was left in the darkened courthouse when the offices in the building closed last night. She had an overnight case which she said contained a wash cloth, soap, tooth brush and "other essentials." The fuss was over a building being erected in Dixie Heights, a suburb of Middletown.

Briefly Told

Homer, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—Willard Wright, 54, of Cortland, was injured fatally yesterday when struck by a car while crossing a street in this Cortland county village.

Glens Falls, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—The parents of Navy Lt. Thomas P. O'Brien, 22, a jet fighter pilot, have been informed their son was killed Tuesday when his plane crashed in Guantanamo Bay during fleet maneuvers.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Raymond O'Brien said last night they had been informed by the navy that a pilot saw their son's plane plunge into the sea moments after O'Brien radioed "Mayday," a distress signal.

Albany, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—About 6,000 upstate employes of the New York Telephone Co. will benefit under a wage increase announced last night by the company and the Empire State Telephone Workers Organization (Ind.).

If ratified by union membership the increases would become retroactive to March 4. The increases range from $2.50 to $5 a week with some adjustments up to $8.50.

Bruhn Testimonial Date Change Noted

Date of the testimonial which will be given County Judge Louis G. Bruhn by the Men's Club of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church is March 12 at 7:30 p. m., in the church assembly hall. It was incorrectly reported in Monday's Freeman that the date was March 21. All men of the church are invited.

New Welfare Plan Would Make State Lose 116 Million

Albany, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—The state and its localities will lose 116 million dollars in federal assistance by enacting a plan to stiffen eligibility requirements for public assistance, the State Social Welfare Department estimates.

The plan is embodied in three bills the Senate approved by 36-18 votes yesterday over the protest of Democrats from the New York city area.

THE BILLS would require that a person must live in the state and his welfare district for a year before becoming eligible for public assistance. They were sponsored by Sen. Peter J. Dalessandro, Watervliet Democrat.

Sen. Alfred E. Santangelo, Manhattan Democrat, said enactment of the district requirement would make New York ineligible for federal aid to the aged, blind, disabled, and dependent children. The federal government pays 50 per cent of the cost, and the state and the locality 25 per cent each.

He said the loss in federal aid would amount to more than 100 million.

Felix Infausto, counsel and secretary of the State Social Welfare Board, said the aid lost would run about 116 million.

THE SENATE Rules Committee proposed that a monthly tax on house trailers be substituted for the present authorization to tax them, when used as a more-or-less permanent home.

The bill would fix the monthly fee at one-fourth of one per cent of the vehicle's value, less depreciation. The proceeds would be turned over to county treasurers for distribution to school districts on the basis of total average daily attendance for the preceding school year.

The Senate passed a bill to allow income taxpayers to deduct up to $100 for contributions to a political party or candidate. The measure was sponsored by Sen. Pliny Williamson, Scarsdale Republican.

A BILL to allow the sale of milk in one-gallon containers was approved by the Assembly. Two-quart containers are the largest allowed now. The measure was introduced by Assemblyman Orin S. Wilcox, Jefferson county Republican.

Final passage came in the Senate for a measure that would allow the use of public schools for private classes for mentally retarded minors.

City Baseball League Sees Possibility of Eight Teams

Three New Clubs Seek Franchise

Whiz Kids, Ellenville File Applications

Hopes for the first eight-team City Baseball League in several years soared last night after three new applications for franchises were submitted to league officials at city hall.

President Fred Davi identified the new teams as Ellenville, the powerful Whiz Kids of Saugerties an all-colored area nine.

Michael Sweeney represented Ellenville, Joe Benjamin, veteran player-manager-scout, will handle Saugerties club and George Kithcart represented the proposed colored team.

HOLDOVER teams that had representatives present were the champion Jones Dairy, New York Panthers, Ferraro's Bowlodrome, and Dobler Beer.

Nadler Motors completed the 1955 field but were not represented. President Davi said, however, he believed the Nadler franchise would be retained.

The league set Monday, June 4, as the tentative opening date. With an eight-team field the league would play four times weekly—Monday through Thursday.

There were no applicants for the posts of groundkeeper, secretary-treasurer and scorekeeper.

Next meeting was set for Wednesday, March 14.

St. Lawrence, BC In Hockey Meet

Middlebury, Vt., March 8 (AP)—St. Lawrence University and Boston College have been selected to represent the east in the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. hockey championship tournament at Colorado Springs, Colo., March 15, 16, 17.

Walter (Duke) Nelson, Middlebury athletic director who is president of the American College Hockey Coaches Assn. and chairman of the eastern selection committee, announced the selections yesterday.

St. Lawrence had a 13-1 NCAA record as it won 17 of 21 games. BC compiled a 14-5 record over the season.

A plane flying from Boston with the BC club, will stop at Syracuse, N. Y., next Wednesday to pick up the St. Lawrence team.

Campaign Opens For Indian LL

Indian Little League of Accord and Kerhonkson has set Monday, March 12, as the date for a house-to-house canvas for funds to finance the 1956 season.

William B. Joyce, fund raising chairman, requests all residents of the villages to support the drive. Collections start at 7 o'clock.

Joyce points out that a new playing field has been acquired and much work is needed to complete it before the schedule opens.

The area to be canvassed begins at the bridge in Wawarsing and covers Kerhonkson and outlying districts and the entire Town of Rochester.

Morehead Mark On Line Against W. Kentucky '5'

(By The Associated Press)

Morehead (Ky.) State has an NCAA tournament berth and a major-college scoring record on the line tonight in a final showdown with Western Kentucky's Hilltoppers, who should still be puffin' from last night's squeaker.

Western opened the three-way playoff for the Ohio Valley Conference crown at Louisville by eliminating Tennessee Tech 84-80 on a pair of field goals by Monty Holland and Forest Able with just 11 seconds remaining.

The three clubs ended the regular season with 7-3 league marks.

MOREHEAD currently tops the major colleges with a 96.5-point game average, improving on the record set last season by Furman at 95.3.

The winner of tonight's game will complete the 25-team NCAA field and then jump into the first round eliminations against Marshall, Mid-American Conference champ, at Fort Wayne, Ind., next Monday

First round play also gets under way at New York and in Seattle the same night with the Wichita, Kans., eliminations beginning Tuesday.

Temple, one of the eight teams involved in the New York regional, warmed up with a 71-66 decision over St. John's of Brooklyn last night with Hal Lear scoring 31 points. Temple, now 22-3, faces Holy Cross at Madison Square Garden Monday.

THE NIT announced the draw in its 12-team scrap with Dayton (23-3), Louisville (23-3), St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (21-4) and Niagara (20-6) seeded in that order and drawing first-round byes.

St. Francis of Brooklyn (19-2) plays Lafayette (19-6) and defending champion Duquesne (16-9) meets Oklahoma A&M (18-8) in the opening afternoon doubleheader at Madison Square Garden, Saturday, March 17.

St. Louis (18-6) vs. Xavier of Ohio (16-9) and Seton Hall (19-4) vs. Marquette (13-10) complete the first round in an evening doubleheader.

Standings Unchanged In ABC Tournament

Rochester, March 8 (AP)—The standings in the American Bowling Congress tournament remained unchanged today following a day and night of action by booster division bowlers.

The open division leaders are: Singles, Robert Rothgerber, Louisville, Ky., 693; doubles, Rudy Hausler (642) and Robert South (638) of Auburn, Ind., 1,280; all-events, Don Krause, Milwaukee, Wis., 1,857; and teams, Schwoegler's Lanes, Madison, Wis., 2,882.

FYL Elects Ellsworth President, Adds KC Club

Other Officers Named; Meeting Slated April 11

LEN ELLSWORTH

Fraternal Youth Baseball League elected Leonard Ellsworth president and added the Knights of Columbus as the eighth franchise at last night's organizational meeting.

Ellsworth, who is manager of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association team, succeeds Lou Sapp of Rotary.

The Knights of Columbus application was submitted by Frank Reis, who was re-elected secretary.

Other officers named were: James Gilpatric, vice-president, and Bernie Redmond, treasurer.

The eight teams making up the Fraternal roster for 1956 include Kiwanis, Vols, Rotary, Elks, Veterans Foreign Wars, American Legion, Kingston Patrolmen's Association and the Knights.

Next meeting date was set for April 11.

Warriors Cop Title

(By The Associated Press)

The Philadelphia Warriors have completed their surge from the bottom of the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn., locking up their first division title since the 1950-51 season.

They did it with authority last night, belting the New York Knickerbockers 108-87 on a doubleheader card at Boston that also saw the Celtics sew up second place in the division with a 111-98 decision over Syracuse.

THE DEFEATS left the Knicks and Nationals still in a virtual deadlock for the third and final playoff spot in the Eastern with Syracuse holding a half-game edge.

In the Western Division, Minneapolis delayed Fort Wayne's title clinching 98-95 and remained in a tie with the St. Louis Hawks, who shoved Rochester two full games into the cellar 96-89.

Neil Johnston, canning 34 points, Paul Arizin, who scored 23, and rookie Tom Gola were the big men for the Warriors, who missed the playoffs by three games a year ago. It was Gola who joined Johnston in laying the wood to the Knicks in a 38-20 final quarter.

Room for a Welsh

Annapolis, Md. (NEA)—Eddie Erdelatz started spring football practice with three navy quarterbacks—Tom Forrestal, Pat Flood and Gus Prahalis—hoping to fill departed George Welsh's spot.

BOWLING SCORES

Tommy Carlino's 656 was the best of eight "600" triples exploded by Central Rec Major keglers last night.

The stocky young trundler who will be pounding basehits pretty soon, reeled off 233 and 253 after a 170 opener.

Overhead Doors (48½-26½) and Prospect Dairies (47-28) retained their 1-2 standings in the league with three-game sweeps.

New Scoring Ideas

Helfand Would Have Boxing Judges Report Every Round

Syracuse, March 8 (AP)—Julius Helfand, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, says he's abandoned suggestions that the scoring of New York fights be announced to the fans after each round.

Helfand said yesterday it might have a bad effect on both the fighters and the fans.

But, he said, he'll consider the idea of having the two judges and referee turn in their scoring to the commission's representative following each round, not to be announced until the fight's end.

"THE IDEA has considerable merit and I'll give it a lot of thought," Helfand said after a luncheon talk to the Syracuse Press Club.

He also told a reporter it was his understanding that Francis Souhan, Senaca county Democratic chairman, would be appointed to the State Athletic Commission to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Leon Swears of Gloversville.

But, said Helfand, "the appointment is the governor's to make."

Helfand said he would recognize Johnny Saxton as world welterweight champion if he beats Carmen Basilio in Chicago next Wednesday but he still wouldn't permit Saxton to fight in New York state.

SAXTON CAN fight in New York only if he acquires a new manager in place of Frank (Blinky) Palermo, Helfand said.

The commission boss said he would give serious thought to establishing state championships in each boxing division, in a move to stimulate fan interest in small boxing clubs and in non-televised boxing in general.

Without the small clubs, he said, "it is my opinion that boxing must die."

Saugerties Meets Chester, Orange Champs in "B" Opener

Port Jervis Due Friday Against Livingston Five

Kerhonkson Scheduled In Tuesday Contest

Saugerties High runs into high powered competition in the opening game of the Class B Intersectionals Friday night at Middletown.

The Sawyers, dethroned by Kerhonkson in the UCAL playoff, meet a crack Chester High quintet that captured the Orange county title with a 53-42 victory over Goshen last night.

MEANWHILE at Washingtonville, Clarkstown of Rockland county meets Warwick of Orange. Port Jervis carries the DUSO banner against Florida in the 8:30 p. m. pairing.

Chester has two fine scorers in veterans Brian Magie and Dave Barth, both six footers. The county seaters are led by the sensational jump-shot artist, Denny Brown. They also feature 6-5 center Denny Kropp and aggressive forward Dave Hill.

SAUGERTIES appears to have tailed off after a brilliant early season but Coach Buddy Smith is expected to have the Sawyers up for this one.

Kerhonkson High swings into action next Tuesday night.

Twelve teams are entered in the tourney from Section Nine. The Orange village league has the largest representation, four, while the DUSO, Western Sullivan and Rockland PSAL as well as the UCAL have two each.

IN ADDITION to Chester and Goshen, Warwick Valley Central and S. S. Seward Institute of Florida, runnersup in their groups, are entered. Roscoe Central and Livingston Manor Central are the Western Sullivan qualifiers, Port Jervis High and Ellenville High the DUSO and Haverstraw High and Nyack High from Rockland.

Haverstraw is the defending champion and is cast in the favorite role. Ralph Cordisco's veteran-lined aggregation marched through the regular campaign with a 15-3 record, including 12 straight wins in the loop. One of their non-league successes was a whomping win over Newburgh.

The Red Raiders are a polished club and feature three holdovers all above six feet, Jack Welch, Jim Ricker and Ed Green. This trio, along with Welch's graduated brother Jim and playmaker deluxe Dixie Reilly, waltzed through four opponents in last year's play without too much trouble.

PORT JERVIS is expected to give the Rockland county boys their stiffest opposition. The Porters hold just the better record (16-3) against tougher rivals.

The darkhorses of the tourney may turn out to be Roscoe and Livingston Manor. The former boasts a sensational record of over 100 victories in the past five years under the tutelege of Bruce Lamb. It captured its fifth straight WSL crown last Friday in a playoff with the Manor to wind up regular play with a 17-1 mark.

The Manor was the only team to defeat the Blue Devils this season. Cy Pesavento's troupe turned the trick in mid-season and then kept pace to deadlock for the lead. They finished with a 15-2 slate.

The semi-finals are tentatively set for March 15 and the finals the 17th at Middletown.

Came Close

New York (NEA) — There were seven one-hit games pitched in the American League last season.

Deer Hunters Bagged 59,532

Albany, March 8 (AP)—New York state hunters took an estimated 59,532 deer during 1955, the Conservation Department reported today.

Conservation Commissioner Louis A. Wehle said the "calculated" take included 42,525 bucks and 17,007 does.

The total was only 795 fewer than the record "calculated" take of 60,327 in 1952. In that year, Wehle said, the "deer-of-either-sex season" was a half-day longer than the one day 1955 season and the area affected by that season covered 29 counties instead of 15.

The "calculated" take is computed by increasing the number of reported takes by the percentage a survey indicates is likely to be unreported.

The figure includes an estimated 1,039 deer taken by archers.

Knights Bop Legal Lights In 'Over 30'

The Lawyers defense in the Over 30 League had, if you'll pardon a horrible pun, plenty of "hoopholes" in it as the Knights of Columbus were awarded a 43-24 verdict.

Biggest transgressor was Al Gruner, KHS baseball coach, who apparently hasn't forgotten the finer scoring points of the cage game as he rimmed 17 points. Ross Melville canned 13 for the Knights whereas (there's that legal jargon again) the barristers had only one witness who could rightly testify to having committed double figures. That was Tom Roach who collected 11.

THE KNIGHTS broke the case wide open in the first period with a four-point spread and increased it to 17 at the intermission. The Lawyers overruled their motion in the second half and outscored the winners in both the third and fourth periods, but unavailingly.

The Businessmen forfeited the opening game to the Kingston Patrolmen's Association.

Those Old Habits Still Linger

Mays, Post, Ernie Banks Pole Homers in Grapefruit Games

Giants Do Tape Job On Willie's Smash

Willie Mays

(By The Associated Press)

Willie Mays of the New York Giants, Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati's Wally Post accounted for 135 National League home runs last season, and they're up to their old tricks.

Mays, who led the league with 51 circuit blows in 1955, walloped a 400-foot homer in the first inning of an intra-squad game yesterday. It was his second home run in three games.

Banks, a 44-homer man in '55 including five grand slams, connected with the bases loaded in a camp game at Mesa, Ariz., and Post, who had 40 a year ago, hit one in a Redlegs' game in Tampa, Fla.

While this veteran trio was having itself a time, rookies stole the show in other camp tilts.

SECOND baseman Don Leppert belted a triple and two singles, stole a base and drove in a run in Baltimore's intra-squad contest. Fire sacker Julio Becquer belted three hits, including a game-winning double in Washington's Orlando, Fla. quarters and outfielder Gino Cimoli cracked an important two-run double in the Brooklyn Dodgers' camp.

It wasn't a particularly good day for the pitchers. Some of the hurlers, however, were optimistic.

Russ Meyer of the Cubs, who was acquired from Brooklyn during the winter, believes he's set "for a fine season."

"I've never been so strong so early in the spring," he said. "I've been able to run more in Arizona than in Florida. It's the difference in the turf."

RELIEF pitcher Ray Narleski expressed the hope that Cleveland manager Al Lopez will give him a chance to start this season.

"When you're a starting pitcher," he declared, "You always have a chance to pitch a no-hit game or to become a 20-game winner. I think I've got the stamina to go the distance. I pitched 242 innings for Dallas in 1951. And the weather was really hot there."

Marino (Chick) Pieretti, who at 34 is getting an opportunity to pitch for the Philadelphia Phillies, said he's out to prove he's completely recovered from a chipped elbow that nearly ended his career.

Pieretti sustained the elbow injury with Washington several years ago and after being sent to the White Sox and Indians he underwent surgery. He recovered sufficiently to win 19 games for Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League last season.

The St. Louis Cardinals were busy trying to correct a flaw in the pitching form of Vinegar Bend Mizell. The big lefthander has difficulty holding runners on first base.

MIZELL, who is returning after a two-year hitch in the army, confessed he has never picked a runner off first. "I doggone near had one last year," he drawled. "I had him way off the bag, but shucks if I didn't throw over the first baseman's head."

In other news, Mickey McDermott, acquired from Washington, was named to pitch in the New York Yankees' first exhibition game against the Cards Saturday . . . Rookie infielder Rance Pless continued to make a favorable impression on Kansas City manager Lou Boudreau . . . Shortstop Luis Aparicio was tabbed to be the Chicago White Sox' leadoff batter. . . . Milwaukee second baseman Jack Dittmer said he would like to be traded because "it's hard to stay in shape sitting on the bench" . . . Manager Bobby Bragan ordered lighter workouts for the Pittsburgh Pirates after several players complained of aching muscles . . . and first sacker Earl Torgeson of Detroit and second baseman Bobby Avila of Cleveland ended salary fights.

John L. Beats Jack La Bua By Decision

Syracuse, March 8 (AP)—"I say, old chap, sorry about that eye, but look at my nose."

"The eye's okay, won't need any stitches. I'm sorry about your nose."

That's dressing room — not drawing room — chitchat between England's John L. Sullivan, the victor on a split decision, and Jackie La Bua, the gracious loser, shortly after they had battered each other for 10 slug-and-clinch rounds in a nationally televised fight last night.

La Bua had had dropped into Sullivan's dressing room to pay his respects. He had the battered eye; Sullivan the bashed nose.

Sullivan knocked La Bua down in the fifth round with a sharp right to the jaw. La Bua bobbed right back up, but had to take an automatic 8-count.

THE HANDSOME youngster from East Meadow, N. Y., took every punch. He would throw a few counter punches, then clinch.

Sullivan weighed 160½, La Bua 159.

The fight was decided by a single point. The announcer originally announced Judge Dick Albino's card as a draw, 4-4-2 with two points for each boxer. Julius Helfand, State Athletic Commission chairman, called the announcer to ringside and he came back and announced the points as 5 for Sullivan, 4 for La Bua.

Judge Ted Sheils called it La Bua, 5-3-2, while Referee Joe Palmer gave it to Sullivan, 5-4-1. The Associated Press gave it to Sullivan, 5-4-1.

Olympic Hopes Soar

East's Golden Glovers Impressive in Finals

New York, March 8 (AP)—A veteran Olympic coach and a judge said today, if the Eastern Golden Gloves championships provides a fair example, the United States will not have to worry much about its boxing forces in the Melbourne Olympics.

"A lot of good boys showed here at Madison Square Garden and remember this is just a sampling," said Pete Mello of the New York Catholic Youth Organization who coached the Americans to five victories in the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki.

NAT OSK, gray-haired judge who has been marking international fights for years, commented:

"We have a lot of fine, stand-up fighters—Olympic style. I don't think we have much to worry about."

Impressive in the list of eastern Golden Gloves champions, who will met Chicago's battlers in the inter-city bouts here March 21, were Tom Schafer, a 19-year-old grave-digger from Pittsburgh, and Jose Rigores of Havana, Cuba, fighting out of Miami, who repeated as eastern champions.

SCHAFER won the 135-pound crown when Mark Murray of Newark, his final foe, was disqualified for lack of action in the third round. Rigores, a sharp little puncher, outpointed Pablo Raul Lugo of Puerto Rico, an Olympic veteran.

Other winners were Pete Spanakos, a 17-year-old New York buzzsaw, 118 pounds; Vincent Breen, an 18-year-old New York stock clerk, 126; Richard Hall, Buffalo, N. Y., porter, 147; Juan Pomare, New York schoolboy, 160; Alonzo Johnson, Pittsburgh rail worker, 175, and heavyweight John Harper, a Steubenville, Ohio truck driver fighting for Pittsburgh as a heavyweight.

Spring INTO ACTION FOR THAT Easter LOOK . . .

Did you catch it on the "Twentieth Century-Fox Hour" last week? Joseph Cotten was asking Gregory Peck, starring in the movie version of "The Man In The Gray Flannel Suit", what the film was about. Peck told him it was about a New York advertising man. "Oh", said Cotten, "then it's not true that the man in the gray flannel suit is a talent scout for Hart Schaffner & Marx"!

Lincoln Lead In Shuffle Loop Now 18 Games

	Won	Lost
Lincoln Park Inn	120	50
Hilltop Rest	102	68
Ruby Inn	100	70
Delaware Ave. Tav.	73	97
Boiceville Inn	67	103
Village Rest	49	121

Action in the Ulster County Tavern Shuffleboard League this week produced changes in the second and fourth place standings as Hilltop Rest jumped to the runnerup spot and Delaware Avenue Tavern moved into fourth.

The Hilltoppers downed Village Rest, 7-3 with Hank DeWitt's 33 points pacing the attack. George Relyea of Village Rest matched him for points. The tandems of Harold Johnson-Pete Fisher, Jr., and Hank DeWitt-Frank Fuscardo copped double wins for the Hilltop.

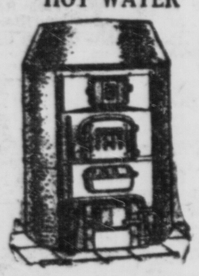

MOVING SIX games up on Boiceville Inn, Delaware Avenue Tavern grabbed an 8-2 win. Ruby split 10 games with Lincoln Park Inn, falling two games behind the Hilltoppers in the second-place race.

Cliff Nichols led Ruby with 26, taking two wins with different combinations. Ted Schatzel-Joe Staccio came up with two victories for Ruby. Jack Struble topped Lincoln Park and teamed with Ed Smythe to win two games.

Sunday's schedule pairs Ruby Inn with Boiceville on the latter's board, Hilltop Rest at Lincoln Park and Village Rest hosts Delaware Avenue Tavern.

Empire Diner Defeats Garden In 'A' Contest

Empire Diner staged a strong second half to overpower Valley Gardens, 77-64, in the YMCA "A" League basketball feature last night.

In "B" contests, Rapp's Express steamrollered Back's Cedarap Jrs. 80-59, and Blacktops led all the way to edge Corner Rest, 59-51.

BILL DUBOIS sparked a second half drive that crumbled the Valley Garden defenses after they led Empires, 36-34 at the half. The former KHS set-shot ace canned 20 points. Long John Godwin rimmed 15.

Cliff Schoonmaker paced the Gardens with 19 points and George Sheeley hit 17.

Ronnie Marks and Butch Whalen bucketed 14 apiece to spark Blacktops win over Corner Rest. Dick LeFevre swished 14 for the losers.

FRANK TIANO unloaded 22 markers and John Tomaseskie potted 21 in Rapps' riot over Cedaraps. Jack Dawkins canned 13 for Backs.

NBA Basketball

(By The Associated Press)

Thursday's Schedule

St. Louis at Syracuse
Minneapolis at Fort Wayne
Boston at Philadelphia

Wednesday's Results

Philadelphia 108, New York 87
Boston 111, Syracuse 98
Minneapolis 98, Fort Wayne 95
St. Louis 96, Rochester 89

Although they're making no public announcements, officials of the National Basketball Association are extremely agitated by the league's premier attraction, Bob Cousy . . . don't like the Celtic star's efforts to band together the players.

The biggest boosters of welterweight Tony DeMarco are the managers of Carmen Basilio . . . who lifted Tony's crown and decked him a second time, to boot. . . . They figure Tony to be champion again. . . .

If the AAU ban sticks, Wes Santee could do worse than revive an old plan he once dreamed would keep him running—a world-wide series of professional races against four-minute milers Roger Bannister and John Landy that would have an international flavor . . . and bring in plenty of dough, above the table. . . . Only one catch: are Roger and John willing? . . .

Don't like the whisper that the bookies have laid off some NBA games this season? . . . But then that one comes up every winter. . . .

What most impressed Ned Irish about Vince Boryla as a player, and led to his hiring as a coach, was his astuteness in their annual salary baggling sessions. . . . Vince knew the value of a buck. . . . Couldn't be the same Boryla who got so mad at a bad shot taken by one of the Knicks in Syracuse that he incautiously threw a fist full of money straight up in the air and splattered it all over the floor. . . .

The Rochester Royals and Syracuse Nationals, once tempted to trade either of their No. 1 draft choices for seven-foot Walter Dukes, are no longer interested. . . .

Spring training reminds us that there's an ex-ball player out in Seattle, Wash., who spends more than half of the year conducting classes for sandlot kids in the art of sliding. . . . His name: Jeff Heath, whose own major league career was abruptly cut short by an imperfect slide into home plate two days before he was to play in his first World Series. . . . Jeff says he learned to slide after he stopped playing ball. . . .

The full name of the Minneapolis Lakers' big blond forward is Arild Verner Agerskov (Vern) Mikkelsen . . . and he's just as tough off the boards, too. . . .

Have no idea what kind of a hockey player Marcel Bonin of the Boston Bruins is destined to be . . . but you can't beat his constitution—at a party after an exhibition game in Wallaceburg, Ont., he calmly started munching on a cocktail glass . . . and was doing fine until someone came along and jostled his elbow, cutting his lip. . . . The little 163-pounder has also wrestled 1000-pound bears in circus sideshows. . . .

Ed Fleming, at 6-2, can outjump every teammate on the Rochester Royals, up to and including 6-9 Arnie Risen. . . .

* * *

Lou Kretlow's status as the No. 1 golfer among baseball players doesn't come without cost to the hurler trying to latch on again with Kansas City . . . Baseball men say he'd have made it big long before this if he'd never heard of golf. . . .

Between you'n'me, comes now the advent of the season of spring phenoms—to be followed by fall guys. . . .

St. Mary's trimmed the Kingston Power Boat Association lead in the Intrafraternal Shuffleboard loop with a 5-2 win.

The Knights of Columbus slid deeper into last place, losing to the Elks, 4-3, while the VFW edged the fifth-place Moose, 4-3.

Federation Meets

The regular monthly meeting of Ulster County Federated Sportsmen's Club will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Dwaarkill Rod and Gun Club at Pine Bush. President Carlton B. King announced that special reports will be heard on the game management program and plans for the clubs cooperation with the Boy Scouts of America in a conservation program.

Bombardiers Stop Feldmans, 34-21

Hainer bucketed 22 points with nine fields and four singletons. Victor Locker rimmed 13 for Feldmans.

The score:

Bombardiers (34)—Amato, f, 7; B. Quarantino, f, 2; Hainer, c, 22; Ferraro, g; Ron Quarantino, g, 1; Landers, g, 2.

Feldman's Oilers (21)—Feldman, f, 2; Krueger, f, 2; Doran, c; Moseley, g, 2; Schrowang, g, 2; Yerry, g; Locke, g, 13; Mayone, g.

Don't Do It

Lynchburg, Va. (AP)—Ever notice motorists riding with their arms out of car, hands on the top? Don't do it, says Richard Phelps. He was riding beside his wife on the front seat of a car driven by his nephew. An approaching car forced them off the road. Phelps arm struck a highway sign and was broken in four places.

LEGAL NOTICES

STATE OF NEW YORK SUPREME COURT: ULSTER COUNTY—FRANCINE J. BRUNO, Plaintiff, against CHARLES G. BRUNO, Defendant.

By virtue of an execution issued out of the Supreme Court, County of Ulster, against the property, real and personal, of Charles G. Bruno, the undersigned will sell at public auction pursuant to law at the Ulster County Court House, 285 Wall Street, Kingston, New York, on the 26th day of March, 1956, at 11:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, all the right, title and interest which the said Charles G. Bruno had therein on the 31st day of October, 1955, or any time subsequent thereto in and to the lands and premises described as follows:

ALL THAT CERTAIN PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate in the Village of Allaben, Town of Shandaken, Ulster County, New York and bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a cherry tree along the Fox Hollow Creek and running thence west along the line of George E. Yerry's property 245 feet to an iron post driven in the ground; thence north along the land of Elizabeth Yerry 315 feet to an iron post driven in the ground, thence east 310 feet to an iron post driven in the ground, and thence south along the Fox Hollow Creek to the place of beginning, containing two acres be the same more or less.

The parties of the second part are to have the privilege of the water rights in and to the spring located on the property of Elizabeth Yerry providing a ¾ inch pipe is used.

Being the same premises conveyed by Edwin I. Fish to Ralph Van Keuren by deed dated Dec. 29, 1919 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office January 13, 1920, in Liber 472 of Deeds at page 599.

Together with all the right, title and interest of the grantors herein in and to all that right of way over a strip of land two feet wide along a ¾ inch pipe line now laid from said Van Keuren premises to the premises of the party of the first part about 210 feet westerly; thence southwesterly about 357½ feet to the spring on land of Elizabeth Yerry for the purpose of repairing or relaying said pipe line and the party of the second part in consideration of this instrument hereby agrees not to waste or allow said water to run to waste, being the same rights conveyed by Clarence Peck to said Ralph Van Keuren by deed dated July 28, 1921 and filed in the Ulster County Clerk's Office for record with this mortgage.

Excepting and reserving ALL THAT CERTAIN PIECE or PARCEL OF LAND situate in the village of Allaben, Town of Shandaken, Ulster County, New York, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a cherry tree along the Fox Hollow Creek being the same point or place of beginning described in a deed hereinafter referred to and running thence westerly along the line of lands of George E. Yerry formerly, now of Kinsella 225 feet more or less to an iron post driven in the ground at the bounds of lands now or formerly of Elizabeth Yerry; thence northerly along the division line between lands hereby conveyed and the lands of said Elizabeth Yerry, now or formerly 26 feet; thence easterly in a straight line to a point or place of beginning being a triangular piece of land 26 feet in width at one end and running to a point at the said cherry tree and being approximately 225 feet in length.

Being the same premises conveyed by Lloyd R. LeFever, Referee to the grantors herein by deed dated the 29th day of May, 1933 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on the 31st day of May, 1933, in Book No. 565 of Deeds at page 156 and which conveyance is made subject to the right of way of the New York State Gas and Electric Corporation, for its poles and wires as now occupied and used by it.

Being the same premises conveyed to the Party of the First Part herein by deed dated March 5, 1937, and recorded in Liber 587 of Deeds at page 295.

ALSO ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate in the Town of Shandaken, County of Ulster, and State of New York, bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at the northwesterly corner of lands of said Ralph M. Jeffery (formerly owned by Olmstead) and running thence easterly or southeasterly along the northerly bounds of said lands of Jeffery 368 feet more or less to a stone wall near the Fox Hollow Creek; thence northerly along said stone wall and near said Fox Hollow Creek 358 feet more or less to the southerly bounds of lands of the New York Central Railroad Company; thence along such southerly bounds and along the railroad fence 393 feet; thence southerly and in a straight line 232 feet more or less to the point and place of beginning, containing about 95,800 square feet of land.

Being the same premises conveyed to the Party of the First Part by Deed dated April 28, 1942, and recorded in Liber 603 of Deeds, at page 347.

Being the same premises conveyed to Harry Gottleib and Seraphine G. Gottleib, his wife, by deed dated October 19, 1946, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Liber 674 of Deeds at page 31.

Being the same premises conveyed to Charles G. Bruno and Francine J. Bruno, his wife, by deed dated July 24th, 1950, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Liber 771 of Deeds at page 452.

Dated: February 6th, 1956.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals in duplicate will be received by the Central School District No. 2, Board of Education, at the office of the Board, Maple Avenue, Ellenville, New York, until Three O'Clock P. M., E.S.T., on Tuesday, April 3, 1956, at which time and place the proposals will be publicly opened and read.

Separate proposals will be received for the following work:

Contract No. 7—Gymnasium and Playroom Equipment.

Contract No. 8—Auditorium Stage Equipment.

Contract No. 9—Auditorium and Music-Assembly Room Seating.

Contract No. 10—Arts and Crafts Room and Shop Equipment.

Contract No. 11—Science Labs and Food Laboratory Equipment.

Forms of Proposal, Drawings, Specifications and other contract documents may be obtained by each bidder at the office of the Architects, Howard C. Snyder, Reginald E. Marsh, Starrett & Van Vleck, Associate Architects, 101 Park Avenue, New York, upon deposit of the sum of Twenty-Five Dollars ($25), which deposit will be returned to the bidder upon return of the documents in good condition within Thirty (30) days after the opening of the bids, provided that a formal proposal has been submitted by bidder. Only one set of drawings and specifications will be issued to each bidder. Additional sets or portions thereof may be obtained by any bidder upon payment of the actual cost of reproduction.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for ten (10) per cent of the amount of the bid, made payable to the Board of Education, or a bid bond in the amount of ten (10) per cent of the amount of the bid, as a guarantee that in case the contract is awarded to the bidder, he will within two weeks thereafter execute the contract and furnish satisfactory bond. Upon failure to do so he shall forfeit the security as liquidated damages.

The checks or bid bonds of all except the three lowest bidders will be returned within three days after the opening of the bids, and the remaining checks or bid bonds will be returned when the contract is executed, or in any event within sixty days after the opening of the bids. No bid may be withdrawn within sixty days after the opening thereof.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a performance bond in approved form and with securities satisfactory to the Board, which bond shall be in the amount of the contract and shall be conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract upon the payment of all just claims for materials and labor furnished under the contract.

The time for the completion of the work under all contracts will be determined by the bidder and will be stated in the contract, and each contractor will be required to perform his work at such times and in such manner as not to delay the work under other contracts.

The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to accept any proposal by any bidder which in the opinion of the Board of Education will be in the best interest of the Board. The time for completion of the contract as set forth in the contractor's bid will be taken into consideration in determining the successful bidder.

By order of the Board of Education, Central School District No. 2, Village of Ellenville, Town of Wawarsing, County of Ulster, State of New York.

NOTICE

During the month of March additional groups of IBM personnel will come to Kingston for a period of training which will require six to nine months.

Some of the men in these groups are married and some have children. They average in age from 24 to 27 years. And in most instances are college or technical school graduates. They are regular IBM employes who will be assigned elsewhere upon completion of their training.

THERE IS, THEREFORE, A NEED FOR FURNISHED AND UNFURNISHED HOUSES AND FURNISHED AND UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS WITH ONE, TWO OR THREE BEDROOMS. IN ANNOUNCING THIS NEED FOR HOUSING, THE COMPANY IS ACTING ONLY AS A POINT OF CENTRALIZED INFORMATION FOR THE STUDENTS. FINAL SELECTIONS AND ALL ARRANGEMENTS WILL BE MADE BY THE MEN IN THEIR OWN BEHALF, AS THEY ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR THEIR OWN LIVING EXPENSES WHILE IN TRAINING.

Those within a radius of 15 miles of the IBM Kingston plant who desire to assist in this housing problem are invited to telephone Dept. of Housing at Kingston 1300, Extension 625 or 628, between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. Monday through Friday or write Housing Administrator, Department 405, IBM Corporation, Kingston, N. Y.

Lyons Makes Reply To Dairy Charge

Albany, N. Y., March 8 (AP)—A representative of the State Agriculture Department has replied to a Republican senator's charge that the Harriman administration shows "little concern" over dairymen's problems.

Republican Senator George R. Metcalf of Auburn, vice chairman of the joint legislative committee on imitation food products and problems, made the charge yesterday when no representative of the department attended a three-hour hearing on a dozen bills aimed at promoting the sale of milk products.

James Lyons, assistant agriculture commissioner, said department representatives did not generally attend hearings unless invited. The department, he said, had received no invitation from the committee chairman, Assemblyman Willard C. Drumm, Columbia county Republican.

Kay Starr Reported In Fair Condition

Corona, Calif, March 8 (AP)—Singer Kay Starr, hurt in a two-car crash last night, was reported in fair condition today.

Dr. Jack Magit said she had suffered shock and her neck, arms and legs were injured.

The blues singer was treated at Corona Hospital and transferred to Beverly Hills Doctors Hospital. Dr. Magit made the condition report there after, he said, extensive X-rays and laboratory tests.

Corona police said Miss Starr was driving her car to her west Los Angeles home from Elsinore, near here, when her machine and another collided at an intersection.

Two companions in her car, Miss Doris Williamson, who lives with the singer, and Mrs. Lynn Riley of Santa Barbara, Calif., were treated at Corona Hospital for minor injuries.

Police said the occupants of the other car, Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Sierra of Corona, were thrown from their automobile and seriously injured.

Cold Air, Snow Rain Forecast For the East

(By The Associated Press)

A brief spell of mild March weather in most of the eastern half of the nation appeared ended today with a blast of cold air and snow and rain.

The icy air moved over the eastern and southern plains eastward to the Appalachians, dropping temperatures more than 30 degrees in Texas and as much as 40 degrees in the Ohio valley this morning.

Snow fell in the upper Mississippi valley, the upper Great Lakes region and western sections of the Ohio valley. Rain or freezing rain hit the lower Great Lakes section, New England, the eastern Ohio valley and in Alabama and Georgia.

HEAVIEST SNOWFALLS were in the midwest with 7 inches reported in Wausau, Wis., and Pellston, Mich., since yesterday morning. Areas in the lower Ohio valley were doused with the largest amounts of rain. More than 2 inches fell in Lexington, Ky., in 24 hours.

Although only light rain fell in most northeast sections, some flooding was reported in parts of New York and Pennsylvania. In New York flash floods closed main highways out of Corning and U. S. 20 west of Albany yesterday. Conditions were described as "progressively more serious" in south-central New York.

Minor flooding was reported in northwest Pennsylvania along the Allegheny river and in the northeast along the Susquehanna river. No serious damage was reported. The State Civil Defense were alerted in case of serious developments in the northeast.

There was a warming trend in the western half of the nation. The biggest temperature rises were in the northern Rockies and Northern plains which were hit by near zero and below zero weather earlier this week. At Missoula, Mont., it was 33, a rise of 30 degrees over yesterday morning.

SNOW FLURRIES fell in the northern Rockies and more rain sprinkled the Oregon coast. Skies were generally fair in the southwest and in the southern and central plains states.

Temperatures ranged this morning from 75 at Key West, Fla., to 14 below zero at Grand Forks, N. D. Other reports: New York 38 and rain; Chicago 19 and clear; Washington 54, and foggy; Cleveland 39 and showers; St. Louis 22 and partly cloudy; San Antonio 38 and clear; Denver 27 and clear; Seattle 37 and cloudy; San Francisco 47 and clear; Los Angeles 55 and cloudy; Portland, Maine, 24 and freezing rain; Amarillo, Tex., 26 and clear; Charleston, S. C., 65 and clear.
